Japanese Rulers Present Gifts To Officers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, April 24.—The Prince of Wales's sight-seeing in the beautiful Hakone district was marred by the weather. Today, the vivid green of the mountains, amid which nestles Yumoto Villa, where the Prince is staying, was shrouded by a heavy downpour. This morning His Royal Highness went shopping in the picturesque village of Miyanoshita where Japanese puzzle-toys are made. The Prince then motored to the Imperial Villa beside Lake Hakone and had lunch with the Prince Regent, this being their last meeting of the Prince's tour.

Tokio, April 23.—After attending morning service, the Prince of Wales left Yokohama amid scenes of extraordinary enthusiasm.

His Royal Highness proceeded by train to Odawara, motoring hence to Baron Iwasaki's beautiful villa in the mountain village of Yumoto.

After lunching with Prince Kanin, the Prince made a trip to Lake Hakone, greatly admiring the wonderful scenery of this world-famed beauty-spot.

Pootung Mill Strike Is Again In Effect

Another deadlock between employers and workers has served to prolong the strike of 3,000 laborers of the Nikka Cotton Mills in Pootung.

The employes, who had been out for a week, were expected to return to work yesterday morning, following a grant of an increase of 15 percent in wages to the lower paid staff and of 10 percent to those on higher scales of pay. Yesterday, however, the issue as to whether the increase was to be paid on a big or small money basis was raised and the workers, holding out for the former, refused to go back to their jobs.

Over 100 Ningpo men employed in the Nanyang Brothers tobacco factory went on strike Sunday night as a result of a fight between Ningponese and Cantonese workers in the factory. The battle had as a consequence the arrest of three men who are to be tried in the Mixed Court.

Chamber To Honor Powell At Tiffin

Preparations are being made by the American Chamber of Commerce for a tiffin to be held in honor of Mr. J. B. Powell following his return from Washington, where he has been working for the past year and a half in the interests of the China Trade Act.

It is planned to hold the tiffin at the Union Club on May 5. Mr. Powell is returning from America by the Admiral Line steamer Silver State, which is due to arrive May 3.

Christian Background Is Greatest Factor For World Peace Says Dr. Mott

World Statesman In Eloquent Address Tells Of Problems Which Must Be Met In Program Of Internationalism; Indian Delegate Speaks

The world today needs a background of Christian ideals and principles if international amity is to be attained, and any attempts to come to this end by other means, by international conferences and discussions, must come to naught, declared Dr. John R. Mott, word speaker and chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation, in an eloquent address delivered to a crowded auditorium at the Lyceum Theater yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Mott's subject was "The Present World Situation" and in his address he made allusion to the troubles and problems of most of the major nations of the earth. He was introduced by United States Consul-General E. S. Cunningham and his talk was preceded by an interesting address on the present situation in India which was delivered by Miss Mohina Maya Das, representative for India, Burma and Ceylon at the recent World's Student Christian Federation conference at Peking.

NATIONALISM RISING

Dr. Mott's address follows:

"What characterises the world situation today? On every hand there is observable a rising tide of nationalism and racial patriotism. Wherever one goes today one is distinctly conscious of the thrill of a new life. Nations are springing into being, old nations are being reborn. It is a striking fact that in this, the most international period in the life of the world, there is the most marked reassertion of national prejudices, ambitions, fears and hopes. The relations between nations today as never before are those of suspicion, irritation and want of fundamental unity. Suspicion: name the nation which today trusts all elements within its own borders, still less its neighbors. Irritations: we cannot but agree with Hoover that the friction points between the peoples are more numerous than they were seven years ago. Moreover, these contacts are much more aggravated and inflamed. By want of fundamental unity we have in mind something more than the obvious fact that two groups of nations, yesterday at each other's throats, are still in reality arrayed against each other and will inevitably be for many a long year. More serious than this is the indisputable fact that in each of these groups there have come misunderstandings, sharp differences, growing ill-will and strife. One need only recall the recurring radical indifferences in policy between France and England in world politics. We must not overlook the startling fact of the attempts to drive wedges of misunderstanding between the mother country of England, on the one hand, and the United States, on the other, and even between Canada and the States.

ECONOMICAL IMPOSSIBILITY

"Economically the international situation is an impossible one. Up to two years ago the world war had cost for purely military and naval purposes over $270,000,000,000 gold. Add the cost of the score and more of wars that have transpired since the signing of the armistice; add to these the countless political revolutions and social upheavals across the breadth of the world; and the total cost mounts to figures which cannot be comprehended. It means that the curfew will ring late, that the hours of leisure and of pleasure will be few for scores of millions of the human race, that the backs of innocent generations yet unborn will be bent low with this overwhelming load. We must not forget that we are living also in a suffering world. I thought I saw suffering during the war in the countless hospitals and in the

COURIER CORPS TO CARRY MAIL IN WAR ZONE

Chinese Postal Authorities Plan Overland Service North By Runners

In order to accelerate mail service from Shanghai north beyond Nanking which is now being carried entirely by steamers from Shanghai to Tientsin plans are being considered by the officials of the Chinese Post Office to open a route of couriers over the gap in the railway that has been made by military leaders.

It is reported here that the rail line has been torn up for a distance of about 30 miles south of Tientsin to the town of Machang and rail service has been suspended entirely northward from Tsinan. The plan under consideration is to put into service a corps of swift foot couriers from Tsinan to Machang and to establish connection with the Tientsin Post Office at the latter point. An obstacle in the way of the purpose is the possibility that the rail line may be cut at a point south of Tsinan between Nanking and Tsinan where troops are now in the field.

OUTLOOK FOR SUCCESS OF CONFERENCE IS IMPROVED

This Week To See Real Test, Observers Say

REPLY TO BERLIN

Lloyd George's Talk Makes Fine Impression

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 24.—The Russo-German Treaty incident was closed for the second and, it is hoped, the last time yesterday at Genoa, with the Ten Powers' reply to Germany.

The reply, incidentally, voices the very general opinion that the German action in concluding the Treaty was "contrary to the spirit of loyal co-operation which is essential to the restoration of Europe."

The omens are now more favorable for the most critical phase of the Conference this week, which will show whether Mr. Lloyd George's great aim for a real European peace pact is to be realised.

The French delegates, despite the gloomy and irritated state of feeling prevalent in Paris yesterday, are more conciliatory, a Frenchman resuming membership on the Russian Affairs Sub-Committee following the withdrawal of the Russian memorandum.

A great impression was made by Mr. Lloyd George's plain words at yesterday's meeting of the Ten Allies, when he firmly intimated that the British desire to co-operate with the Allies was unlikely to continue if it appeared that feuds would thereby be promoted and added that the British Empire was determined to surmount any obstacles to the achievement of peace.

FRENCH APPROVE

M. Barthou, following, declared that he approved all that Mr. Lloyd George had said. He and his colleagues were most anxious to dispel all difficulties and to co-operate fully in the economic restoration of Europe and the peace of the world.

Meantime, it is reported that not only have the demands for the security of the pact with Great Britain been revived in France but for a wide military convention, including Poland, for the enforcement of the Allies' claims on Germany.

London, April 23.—Sir Robert Horne journeyed to Windsor immediately on his return from Genoa and was received in audience by the King.

London, April 23.—Advices from Paris state that the anti-conference views in the newspapers are daily increasing in bitterness. The majority today are strongly in favor of an immediate French withdrawal from Genoa.

Some, like the Intransigeant, express the opinion that the conference will end in a fiasco, whether France quits or stays; therefore, they advise remaining in order to avoid the blame of being the first to leave.

SEEKS WAY OUT

Rapallo, April 23.—At a meeting of the Little Entente Poland endeavored to find a via media on account of the difficulty in which she is placed owing to the conflicting views of the British and Italians on the one hand and the French and Belgians on the other, and decided to press France not to contribute to the upbreaking of the Conference.

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 23.—Representatives of the Ten Powers who signed the note of protest to Germany, met this morning and sent a note to the President of the German delegation reserving for their Governments the right to declare null and void any clauses in the Russo-German Treaty which may be considered contrary to existing treaties and declaring that the incident may now be regarded as closed.

The Ten Powers' note declares that there is no shadow of justification for the statement that the Germans were forced to conclude a separate agreement with Russia by the refusal of the convening Powers to consider the difficulties which the proposals of the experts in London would have created for Germany.

The members of the German delegation, when they conferred

MEDIATION PLANS FAIL, HSU OFFERS TO STEP OUT

Wu "Insulted" By Chang Tso-lin's Telegram

TSAO OBDURATE

"Re-unification" Parley Not Much In Favor

(Special Wire to the CHINA PRESS)

Peking, April 24.—Because the prospects of an amicable settlement of the Chihli-Fengtien conflict looked dark, President Hsu Shih-chang circularised the provinces with a telegram Saturday, offering to resign.

Mediation is still going on. The telegram addressed to Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin on Friday and signed by retired officials, including Wang Shih-chen, Chang Shi-lan, Chao Erh-hsun, Wang Tsan-yuan, Meng En-yuan and Chang Shao-chen made a plea for pacification.

The message said in part:

"Considering the general political situation, we should be engaged in a movement of house-cleaning since we are taking over our rights in Shantung and should not complicate the situation by internal dispute. From a private viewpoint, you two are close relatives. You certainly have no desire to cut each other's throats.

"Considerable commotion has been created in Peking and Tientsin on account of your transfer of troops. There is financial panic and a foodstuff shortage. The situation is indeed critical.

WANTS CONFERENCE

"It has been proposed that both of you fix a date when you can come to Tientsin and eliminate your differences and at the same time despatch a circular telegram to all the provinces inviting them to a conference, whereby the unification of the country may be consummated.

"Meanwhile, it is proposed that the advanced troops of both factions make their withdrawal while those in the rear refrain from advancing."

The telegram was referred to General Wu Pei-fu at Paotingfu, who expressed dissatisfaction because his name was not mentioned. He announced that unless he participates in the conference, no decision will be final.

Tsao Kun, on the other hand, has become very passive. He told Wu Pei-fu that he intended to withdraw entirely from the political arena and leave his sphere in Tientsin to Chang Tso-lin and that of Paoting to Wu so that he might not be accused of being partial to any faction. His reply to the mediators was that he was unable to proceed to Tientsin on account of his indisposition. The mediators have deputed General Wang Chi-hsiang to proceed to Paoting and invite Tsao to Tientsin personally.

Plans for the convening of a peace conference in Tientsin are being formulated by Wang Shih-chen, Chang Sih-lan and Chao Erh-hsun. The Honan and Anhui Guilds in Tientsin will be used as headquarters for the opposing delegates.

MORE TROOPS

An extra detachment of foreign troops have arrived in Tientsin to protect foreign interests.

In Peking, an absolutely depressed atmosphere prevails. Price of rice and kindling is soaring. Restaurants, theaters and other places of amusement are deserted. Several moving picture theaters have already closed their doors for want of patronage. Only a flicker of hope remains for peace and that is the expectation that the existence of the Legation Quarters may keep the warfare distant.

The Chihli troops in Liuliho are digging trenches for the expected conflict. More than 35 li of trenches have been excavated.

TEXT OF WU'S WIRE

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, April 21.—Replying to a circular telegram recently issued by the Provincial Assembly of Chihli, advocating the peaceful settlement of the situation, General Wu Pei-fu has wired to the Provincial Assembly of Chihli, stating to the following effect:

"If peace is really desired, the Fengtien troops which have invaded Chihli shall get out of Chihli province and abolish the Peking headquarters of the Fengtien troops. Now that the Fengtien troops have entered Chihli, the Chihli troops have no alternative but to take steps of self-defence.

Buddhists Invade Land Sacred To The Taoists

By Elsie McCormick

(This is the fourth article of a series on Taishan, the sacred mountain of Shantung.)

Though every top-knotted divine from the White Stork Monastery to the Temple of the Pearly Emperor will tell you that Taishan belongs exclusively to the followers of Tao, a Buddhist nunnery has perched itself on the side of the holy trail. The nuns rushed in where monks feared to tread, and they are doing a basement sale business in transmitting prayers for those who desire a full perambulator. On one side of the court, there is a altar to the Taoist goddess, the Lady of the Many Colored Clouds; on the other, there is a chapel to Kwan-yin, the calm-faced Buddhist divinity who sits in a circle of lotus petals. On both altars are colored dolls to represent plump babies; and in the two rooms hang dozens of gilded scrolls presented by grateful worshippers of past years.

Buxom Buddhist nuns, with shaven heads, black hats, and blue trousers and jackets hit deep-toned bells while the pilgrims kowtow to the two most powerful ladies in the religious systems of China. Little novices, with books of Buddhist ritual under their arms peek round the edges of the buildings at the strange foreign visitors; the wind over the hill stirs the bluish curls of incense smoke; and the soft tone of the gongs is supplemented by the tinkle of the wind-bells. Incidentally, the nuns are better housekeepers than their brethren. No rubbish heaps are observable in the courtyards and no cobwebs hang from the halos of the gods.

HORSE-TURN-BACK GATE

A little beyond the nunnery one comes to the Horse-Turn-Back Gate, where the great flights of steps begin and where the pilgrims gird up their straw sandals preparatory to the long pull to the summit. Personally, it seemed to us that only a highly-educated circus horse could negotiate much of the trail before the gate is reached, though illiterate Chinese donkeys have been known to make the ascent. An hour or so more of travel, and one comes to the famous Eighteen Flights, one of the most spectacular pages in all the great picture album of China.

A first glimpse of the steps leading to the South Gate of Heaven is a breath-taking experience. The way coils up the mountain until it seems to reach incredible heights, until it suggests a giant canvas painted to represent an allegory of human life. The tiny figures of the pilgrims climbing slowly to the heavenly gate seem to personify the long upward march of humanity over the hard trail of struggle and disillusionment. A glimpse of these terrific flights of stairs brings home again to the visitor the drawing power of Taishan, but it makes one wonder why the pilgrims worship the god of the mountain instead of the forgotten builders who suggested divine pomp and majesty and contrasted the littleness of man, his courage, his weariness and his aspirations in a road of stone leading up through a dark ravine to the yellow glories of the Heavenly Gate.

"EIGHTEEN FLIGHTS"

Speaking of the ascent as "the Eighteen Flights" is a bit misleading. It is really one great flight, separated here and there by narrow stone landings. We have never heard any statistics regarding the number of stairs and we were too absorbed by the panorama to count them. Judging as usual by fatigue rather than by actual mileage, the Chinese give the distance as forty li. Their estimate is no doubt correct, for it must take a good forty li's worth of exertion to pull one out of the dark of the ravine to the gods' resting-place on the summit.

Though the first glimpse of the flight is staggering in its impressiveness, it loses nothing of its wonder when seen from a closer view. Following one side of a sheer-faced ravine that near the top converges into a chasm, the stairs might have made an appropriate illustration of the Divine Comedy. Looking up the long flight from the bottom, one sees the long trail of blue-clad worshippers, the glint of the sun on their golden ghost money, and the flutter of flags on the shoulders of those returning from the summit.

PERPETUAL TOM TOM

Across the ravine, an industrious Chinese hermit beats a perpetual tomtom to call attention to the eighteen baskets on the stairs where he collects the funds to keep his cave fires burning. The hermit is evidently a believer in the

400 CHINESE POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES HERE STRIKE

Men Ask Wage Increase, Abolition Of Savings

SEE BOLSHEVISM

Commissioner Smith Blames Local Agitators

Four hundred Chinese letter carriers attached to the central and branch offices of the Chinese Post Offices went on strike last night, after a whole day of unsuccessful negotiations with post office officials for increases in wage, shorter working hours, and an abolishment of the post office employes banking system which deducts one dollar from their pay envelope each month to be held at five percent interest. Sometimes never these savings are returned, the carriers say.

The workers were obdurate in their demands. They presented their ultimatum at 9 o'clock yesterday morning demanding immediate settlement of all issues including the refund of their accumulated savings in the post office bank and undertook, late in the afternoon and in the early evening to intercept and stop the delivery of mails to various steamers, branches, railway stations, and foreign offices by the regular post-office department auto trucks.

Private touring cars and rickshas protected by a posse of foreign and Chinese police saved the situation for the postoffice. It was said last night that no mails had to that time been delayed.

BLAMES BOLSHEVISM

Bolshevistic teachings were given as the underlying cause of the difficulty last night by Deputy Postal Commissioner F. L. Smith, who has handled all of the dealings with the dissatisfied workers. At least two of the leaders of the strike are known to be Socialistic students of the ultra modern sort. They are held responsible in the main for the trouble.

The grievances of the carriers summarised are the abolishment of the ten-hour day in favor of the modern eight hour working period; an approximate increase in wage amounting to 5 percent, an immediate repayment of the accumulated savings held back by the post office department since the time of each employe's initial employment, and the abolishment of the system of deducting part of carriers' pay.

The workers yesterday morning presented the usual unionistic demands and arguments: The popular eight-hour day which has been accepted in almost all of the countries where labor unions hold forth; the higher cost of living necessitating the increase in wages; the injustice of the deduction of one dollar per month from the small wage of the letter carrier.

RATES OF PAY

Mr. Smith last night explained that the average letter carrier was paid $18 per month. The new man in the service, he said, received $12. After six months of service he was increased to $14. After one year he was given $15.50. Most of the men however, Mr. Smith said, had been in the post office department employ a considerable time, so that their wages in many instances ran up to $25 per month.

Carriers however, while giving much importance to the demand for the increase in pay, laid chief stress on the enforced depositing of one dollar per month in the postal savings bank. They stated that, while it was intended that the system was instituted essentially as a helpful measure to promote thrift among the carriers, it had latterly been used against them as a means to enforce absolute attendance to duty whether physically fit or not. They stated that oftentimes, when a carrier was sick and unable to work, their savings were confiscated by the post office department as a penalty. The system, they said, was not of advantage to them, it was merely a means of reducing or camouflaging their wage figures.

The deputy commissioner however explained that the savings system was one of great worth to the carrier, and the only means by which he might be made to save. Only in cases of rifling of valuable mails had savings been withheld, he said; the system on the whole was quite commendable and desirable.

The outcome of the strike is likely to be slightly in favor of the carriers. Mr. Smith declares that he was not empowered to deal with the leaders of the strike, that he had telegraphed to the Ministry of Communications at Peking asking advice and recommending a slight increase in wages. The questions of savings accounts for the carriers and the eight hour day however are still open for negotiation. The men meet the deputy commissioner again this morning at nine o'clock when it is expected that some definite settlement will be reached.

President Hsu Offers To Quit

port Liang Shih-yi, it will be remembered that Liang Shih-yi once favored the movement for the restoration of Imperial Government and is thriving on selling the country."

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, April 24.—The Chinese Chamber of Commerce has telegraphically requested the rival War Lords not to permit fighting within forty li of Tientsin.

Up to the present about 120 troop trains have entered Chihli. In contra-distinction to earlier trains those arriving now are crowded with troops. Yesterday some aeroplanes and camel corps detachments arrived.

The North China Star states that 500 Chihli troops yesterday hurriedly evacuated their position in the vicinity of Machang, abandoning seven guns.

Peking, April 24.—The main feature today is the publication of several telegrams from Generals Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin to the Government, endeavoring to show that General Chang and General Wu are responsible for the present situation, respectively.

The efforts of the mediators continue and there still seems to be a possibility of the campaign being brought to an end by telegrams instead of machine-gun fire.

General Feng Yu-hsiang has joined General Wu Pei-fu. The movements of the Fengtien troops continue and they have now encircled Peking. Traffic on the Peking-Hankow line was suspended today.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, April 24.—In response to Chang Tso-lin's circular telegram dated April 19, Tsao Kun on April 22 also issued a circular telegram to various quarters, stating that while he is in favor of the unification of China, he is against Chang's scheme to effect the desired unification by force of arms, and urging that pacific measures should be employed.

This announcement on the part of Tsao Kun has attracted much attention in political circles here, as it is regarded as the first protest raised by Tsao Kun against Chang Tso-lin. Replying to the secret telegram issued by President Hsu on April 21, Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin communicated their respective telegrams to the President the following day. In substance, the telegrams express an intention to obey the orders of the President and of supporting him to the end. In the telegram from Tsao Kun, however, there was, it is reported, a phrase in which Tsao expresses his desire to see the Fengtien troops withdrawn from Chihli forthwith. Chang Tso-lin is said to have wired to Wang Shih-chen, stating that if Tsao Kun proceeds to Tientsin, he will do likewise. No telegram from Wu Pei-fu in reply to the President's telegram has yet been received here.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, April 24.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen's mandate accepts General Chen Chiung-ming's resignation from all posts except the Ministry of War.

The post of Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangtung troops will be abolished and all naval and military forces will be placed under the control of the Generalissimo.

Dr. Wu Ting-fang has been appointed Civil Governor of Canton and General Ngai Bong-ping Commander of the Canton Gendamerie.

Overland telegraphic wires were cut near Tsangchow on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway on Sunday morning. Telegraphic messages from Peking to Shanghai are being carried by the Chefoo cable, which is subject to a delay of 24 hours.

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, April 23.—"I have not much hope of being able to stave off the clash at arms," Wang Shih-chen said today, "especially when the efforts of President Hsu have failed."

This statement to your correspondent was taken as indicating a less hopeful state of affairs, but maybe only an attempt on Wang's part to show courtesy to the President. All parties admit the situation is serious, but not yet without solution.

The Fengtien faction is showing signs of weakness in that Liang Shih-yi has requested additional leave of absence, and it is taken to be a further admission on the part of Chang Tso-lin of his inadequacy to meet the situation his taking the field has created.

WU'S TELEGRAM

Wu Pei-fu's telegram demanding that Chang withdraw inside the great wall shows sterner determination on his part to fight the thing through on the lines that Chang has laid down by massing troops between Wu's army and Peking.

No further military moves have occurred except for the Fengtien forces taking over the loose end of the Peking-Hankow Line between Wu's trenches at Liuliho and the capital. The remainder of the line is now being administered from Paotingfu by railway officials who favor the Chihli party.

The populace was much amused at the posting of proclamations by the Fengtien forces in the name of the "Mongolian expedition."

Peking, April 22.—A circular telegram dated April 21 issued by General Lu Yung-hsiang, Tuchun of Chekiang, reached various quarters here today. The substance of the telegram is that he is in favor of the unification measures indicated in the circular telegram issued by Chang Tso-lin on April 19.

Hankow, April 22.—Apropos of Chang Tso-lin's circular telegram dated April 19, General Wu Pei-fu has issued a circular telegram, in which Wu Pei-fu strongly demands the prompt withdrawal of Fengtien troops from Chihli province, otherwise, he declares, he will solve the situation by force of arms.

It is now reported that the distance between the Chihli and Fengtien troops in the district of Liuliho is only 5 li.

Tientsin, April 22.—General Wang Shih-chen arrived here last night.

STAND BY WU

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, April 23.—According to Chinese reports, the Tuchuns of Kiangsu, Kiangsi, Hupei, Shantung and Honan, the Civil Governor of Shensi and General Ma Fu-hsiang associate themselves with General Wu Pei-fu in a circular telegram, contesting the statements of General Chang Tso-lin's recent telegram and adding that there will be no peace until another Northern General, not Wu Pei-fu, is suppressed.

General Lu Yung-hsiang, in another circular, associates himself with General Chang Tso-lin's reunification plan, with the reservation that it must be carried out without fighting.

Thus the thunders of Fengtien are finding a response instead of an echo from the Central Provinces.

The movements of the Fengtien troops continue, while the Chihlilites are still concentrating mainly on Chengchow, with regular movements of small bodies towards the North. Fronts are gradually being established at Changsintien and Liulihou on the Peking-Hankow Line, near Peking, but there is no sign of a real clash, which will probably depend on the results of the peace movements through the various old leaders.

SHENSI ON MARCH

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, April 22.—It is learned on good authorities that General Feng Yu-hsiang, Tuchun of Shensi, on April 20 made an advance as far as Tunkwan, Shensi, and is now concentrating the 9th and the 11th Divisions as well as the 1st Mixed Brigade in the district of Fungchen in order to co-operate with General Wu Pei-fu.

General Feng contemplates transporting his troops to Hsucho, Honan, by the Lunghai railway.

WU MOVES BATTALIONS

DISCUSS COMPROMISE

Hankow, April 23.—A Peking telegram that reached the Tuchun's Office at Wuchang today states that on the night of April 22, Wang Shih-chen, Pao Kuei-ching, Wang Chuan-yuan, Chang Shao-tseng, Chao-Erh-shen, and Chang Hsi-luan held a conference in Peking, at which they discussed the following items as conditions for a compromise:

The Fengtien troops shall be withdrawn from Chihli.

Wu Pei-fu shall be confined only to the post of Inspector General of Hupeh and Hunan.

Liang Shih-yi shall be relieved of the Premiership.

Chou Tzu-chih shall form a new Cabinet.

Hankow, April 23.—The Peking-Hankow Railway began to issue tickets for stations between Hankow and Paotingfu from last night, but for north of Paotingfu tickets will not be sold for the present.

BATTLE OF TELEGRAMS

Chinese press reports still indicate that to date the looming civil war beween Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu is a battle of telegrams. Judging from the dispatches printed by the Chinese press not only Tuchun Lu of Hangchow and General Ho Feng-lin of Shanghai, but every other prominent leader in China is burning up the wires with telegrams urging one move or another.

The most important move locally was the appointment of Wong Ching-sung as Chief of Staff and co-Director of the Changwan Arsenal by General Ho Feng-lin, Military Governor of Sungkiang and Shanghai. The Shanghai Arsenal is considered an important cog in Chinese war machinery and would be of great benefit to either Chang or Wu should Tuchun Lu and General Ho take sides in the impending conflict.

At the same time the Chinese press reports that seven or eight Fengtien officers withdrew $70,000 from a bank on Nanking Road yesterday and left on the morning train yesterday for Pengpu and Soochow. Another party of Fengtienites are reported to have been sent to the South in connection with affairs of a secret nature. Six are said to be en route to Hankow and five others are to go to Nanking, apparently as propagandists for Chang Tso-lin.

Another Chinese journal reports that a compradore for a foreign firm on Kiukiang Road left yesterday for Hankow upon hearing that Wu Pei-fu desired to purchase some airplanes. The Shanghai firm is said to be in a position to furnish the Yangtze warlord with several flying machines.

According to the Shun Pao General Yen Shih-shan, the Tuchun of Shansi has sent a representative to Paoting to pledge his allegiance to Wu Pei-fu.

J.O.P. Bland Takes Dour View Of War

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 23.—Discussing the triangular duel in China in the Observer, Mr. J. O. P. Bland says the play is the same grim old struggle for place, patronage and power which has been played from time immemorial around the Capital of China whenever the strong hand of established authority has been removed.

Mr. Bland refers to "three political adventurers who are at present the most conspicuous in disputing their right to misgovern and plunder the country," and he declares that as far as the country at large is concerned it matters little or nothing whether General Chang Tso-lin defeats General Wu Pei-fu or Dr. Sun Yat-sen defeats both, for none of the present groups of "word-spinning warriors" possesses the qualities or prestige sufficient to enable its leader to fill the position of dictator or restablish Peking's authority over the provinces.

He predicts a final settlement of the present crisis will be reached not by battle ordeal but dollar diplomacy, decorously conducted by slick and subtle mandarins. Meanwhile, he says, civil war continues a lucrative profession, as the times go, for those who follow it at a safe distance.

Discovered Too Late

TOO often the failure of men to provide for their families is not discovered till their death. Property may not be fully paid for, debts may have accumulated, titles may be questionable, wills may be defective, or savings be inadequate. The consequences of such failures are often so serious that it is hard to see how men can be willing to take any chances.

IN such an important matter as this too great care cannot be exercised. The duty is one that a husband and father should be glad to perform—and to be sure that he had performed it.

THE one sure means for meeting this duty is life insurance. It is within reach of even moderate incomes. There is no other safe way whereby a man, for a small investment, can immediately create an estate that will fully protect his family.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefuly and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

R EDWARD AND ADY PEARCE ARE IVEN GREETINGS

ndreds Attend Reception In Their Honor At The Town Hall

Members of the British community to the number of several ndred gathered at the Town ll yesterday afternoon to nor Sir Edward and Lady rce at the "At home" and ce given for them under the spices of the several British anisations of Shanghai. The hall was very prettily dated with greenery, flowers l bunting for the occasion and tily arranged tea tables were ilable for the visitors to make of during the reception and ce, which lasted from 4:30 6:30 o'clock.

The heads of the organisations ier whose auspices the "at ne" was held—the British amber of Commerce, China oc'ation, St. Andrew's, St. vid's, St. George's and St. rick's Societies and the British men's Association—formed the eption committee and the comtee members of the organisans acted as a general comtee to introduce those attend- to the guests of honor.

The address of welcome was ivered by Mr. H. H. Fox, M.G. Mr. Fox sketched Sir ward's career since his ival in Shanghai 35 years and paid tribute to his efforts behalf of the community as a lic servant and in the advance- t of British interests and stige. He spoke of the grati- tion of the community in con- tion with the well-merited or conferred upon Sir Edward, thus upon the city as well.

"Sir Edward stands by himself ne," said Mr. Fox. "We are not ays of one mind and we may er on such subjects, as trees the Bund, publicity at Council etings, the tram service and military band, but I know t had this community of ours n asked to assemble in public eting—I would even include foreign friends and ray the epayers of Shanghai—and had y been asked to vote for a didate for this honor, there uld have been no difficulty at all getting a quorum but ratepayers uld have had themselves car- d if need be on stretchers into hall to record their vote for ward Charles Pearce. This ling of affection and respect ch Sir Edward has gained in community is surely not the st of his rewards."

Lady Pearce was also included Mr. Fox's remarks in happy ms and he concluded by ask- all present to wish them hap- ess and a pleasant trip to the d country" and a speedy re- n.

Sir Edward in reply offered rtfelt thanks on behalf of him- and Lady Pearce for the nor conferred upon them by ir friends in Shanghai and at conclusion Mr. Trenchard vis called for three cheers, ich were lustily given for the sts of honor, after which se assembled joined in the ncing, the French Club hestra playing.

A picturesque touch was lent occasion by the parading as guard of honor of the Jewish hool and Cathedral School Boy outs. The lads, in uniform and aring staves, formed a line ng the stairs leading up to the il hall between which Sir Ed- rd and Lady Pearce passed.

Edward afterward reviewed Jewish troop, which will be able to attend the general ade to be held next Saturday.

Notes On The Situation

The telegraph wires in Tsangchow were cut on Sunday morning. Telegrams from Peking to Shanghai are being carried via the Chefoo cable, which is subject to a delay of 24 hours.

Another minor engagement between Fengtien and Chihli troops took place at Kuo-an, Chihli, on Saturday. No casualities were recorded.

An absolutely non-committal attitude has been assured by former Marshal Tuan Chi-jui in Tientsin. He sees no friends in politics, devoting most of his time to the study of Buddhism.

On account of the dark prospects for mediation, General Wang Shih-chen is returning from Peking to his home in Chengting.

The Chihli public bodies have addressed an ultimatum to Tsao Jui, Civil Governor of Chihli, demanding that he resign from office. Tsao was one of the first of the Chihli-ities to surrender to the wrath of Chang Tso-lin.

Tuchun Feng Yu-hsiang's arrival at Chengchow, Honan, has been confirmed. Chao Ti, the Honan Tuchun, has offered to vacate his position in favor of Feng. Liu Chenghua, the civil governor of Shensi, will probably succeeded Feng as Shensi Tuchun.

Sun Lieh-chen, Tuchun of Kirin, arrived with his troops on Saturday night at Tientsin. He will be stationed in Yanglutsing.

The Hunan Tuchun, Chao Hengti, informs Hsiao Yao-nan, the Hupeh Tuchun, that he will keep neutrality in case of a conflict.

Chang Tso-lin has telegraphed to C. T. Wang and Tien Chung-yu of Shantung to deny the report that he had anything to do with the shipment of bandits to Tsingtau.

A large number of pistols consigned to Chang Tso-lin from Shanghai are reported to have been discovered by the Customs at Tsingtau.

Airplanes formerly captured from Peking by Chang Tso-lin have been transported to Chungliangchen, Chihli, for military use.

The Dah Tong News Agency reports that Tsao Kun has rejected the suggestion advanced by Chang Tso-lin in his circular telegram. The Chihli leader is assuming a stern attitude, while that of the Fengtien warlord is weakening. However, this is still a period of verbal combat and no actual warfare is anticipated within the next few days.

The Mukden army is leaving no stone unturned to assimilate all foreign forces for their campaign. Every effort is being made to ally with the provinces in the Southeast.

honor system, for he weights his baskets down with stones and leaves them without other guardian. The sight of a tousled black head appearing over a nest of rocks whenever a coin is dropped indicates that he probably rings them up on some private cash-register of his own.

No matter what the season, a high wind sweeps down through the defile, twisting the pine branches and taking liberties with pilgrim headgear. The explosion of fire-crackers, much intensified by the acoustics of the ravine, gives a perpetual illusion of thunder and the shrill whistle of the wind adds eeriness to unreality. The complete impression is that of the Pilgrims' Chorus from Thanhouser written in scenery instead of in music.

Our only falls from poetry to prose occurred when some intrepid Japanese sightseer, girded with a thermos-bottle, moved a act of projecting teeth out from under a bristly black mustache and inquired sweetly, "Hallo! You 'Merican?" Four hundred Japanese climbed the mountain that day and apparently they all learned English conversation in the same school.

"WHERE THE ROCKS FALL"

Near the top of the defile, where the chasm becomes narrower and more precipitous, a graven stone announces that the traveler has come to the "place where the rocks fall down." The Chinese say that many a boulder has tumbled from this point on to the head of some unwary pilgrim, causing him to lose all further interest in the scenery, and terminating his pilgrimage before he had a chance to burn his ghost-money.

At the top of the chained stairs, the traveler draws a long breath and steps with exalted spirit through the South Gate of Heaven. He turns to look over the road he has come, sees the lower reaches of the mountain veiled in a haze, and then goes through the celestial entrance to find himself in a muddy little courtyard, populated by pigs and chair-coolies. He is glad he didn't know the full details when he waxed poetic over the toiling road to heavenly glory; but he wonders a bit uncomfortably if the builders of the allegorical trail know the supreme piece of cynicism that has been perpetrated at the summit. Is humanity to pass at last through the gate of its highest aspirations only to find itself in a cul-de-sac of muck, covered by the litter of the ages?

However, the real summit is still some distance away, and it is the Pearly Emperor who will have the final word.

70 DELEGATES OF CHINA CHURCHES ASSEMBLE HERE

Presbyterian Representatives Gathered For Important Executive Session

Representatives of the Presbyterian churches of England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada and the United States, together with the delegates of Chinese presbyteries formed by these churches, are now in executive session here. The united body represents nearly 100,000 Chinese Christians in many provinces of China, from Manchuria to Canton.

On April 22 at 8 p.m. the retiring moderator of the assembly, the Rev. P. F. Price, D.D., professor in Nanking Theological Seminary, preached the opening sermon, taking the text from Matthew XXI, 42, "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner." Election of officers followed, the Rev. Zia Ts-hsi, a prominent pastor in Ningpo, was appointed the new moderator and the Rev. Robert Fitch, D.D., vice-moderator. Other officers were also elected.

Yesterday the assembly met at 46 Rue Montauban in the French Concession. About seventy delegates are in attendance and much important business, vitally concerning the church, is being put through. The proceedings are conducted with much order and decorum in the Mandarin dialect and it is interesting to note that the delegates from South China speak this language with considerable fluency. English is used when necessary to elucidate the subjects and for the benefit of those who cannot understand Mandarin.

In the midst of the proceedings yesterday it was announced that the Rev. G. L. Gelwicks, a delegate to the assembly from Hunan, had passed away at his home. By vote a letter of condolence to his family was written by the clerk of the assembly in which the sorrow of the church was expressed. Mr. Gelwicks was a valuable worker and his death is felt o be a severe loss by the missionary body.

In the afternoon the Rev. Charles R. Erdman, D.D., of Princeton Theological Seminary, whose addresses in Shanghai have been very favorably received and appreciated, addressed the assembly. He said that the first "general assembly" of the church was held in the first century, when the apostles were present; and that meeting is the model for the Chinese church. Its message to the churches was liberty, purity and love. The general assembly, he said, was formed nearly two thousand years ago in the Far Western part of Asia; now the Chinese are establishing another assembly in the Far Eastern part of the continent. The address was interpreted into Chinese by one of the Chinese members.

Much important business remains to be done during the sessions of this week and the delegates express the conviction that the meetings will prove to be epochal in the history of the Chinese Presbyterian Church.

Banque Inquiry Takes Wider Scope

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 24.—A Paris despatch states that the inquiry into the affairs of the Banque Industrielle de Chine has extended to the affairs of the Pacific Maritime and Commercial Company, founded by M. Albert Gallusser in July, 1918, who is now charged on the complaint of numerous shareholders with infringing the Company Law, abuse of confidence and swindling.

It is alleged that M. Pernotte made considerable advances to the Pacific Company out of the coffers of the Banque Industrielle, to which the Company owed 180,000,000 francs when M. Gallusser finally received his conge. M. Gallusser, however, declares that the debt was only about a quarter of this amount.

Woman Saves Dog, Loses Her Brooch

When a big unmuzzled mongrel ran forward menacing a little dog she was leading on lease on Bubbling Well Road Mrs. I. O. Upham, 21 Yates Road, made an active effort to protect her pet. This necessitated not a little dodging and scrambling about the roadway, but Mrs. Upham succeeded at length in driving the larger dog away. Some time later she discovered she had lost a brooch containing a large opal and 18 diamonds valued at $500. The police have been asked to give aid in recovering the jewel.

Destined for service in the white water of the Yangtsze Gorges the steamer Wanhsien, a new acquisition of the China Navigation Company which was built in Glasgow, will sail on Thursday under command of Captain Mills for the upper reaches of the Yangtsze. The vessel is to run between Ichang and Chunking.

The Wanhsien is 800 tons gross and 473 tons net register. She is fitted with bullet-proof safety scuttles as a protection of the bridge when fighting is in progress.

The accommodation on the boat for first-class passengers is good, the dining rooms being large and the cabins fitted with steam heaters and electric fans. The needs of Chinese passengers have been studied, and there is cargo space for 800 tons deadweight.

GIRL CARRYING UMBRELLA LEADS THREE INTO JAIL

Police Believe Tong Gang Of Blackmailers Have Been Operating Here

In accordance with instructions given by a gang of blackmailers who were attempting to extort $3,000 from him, Lung Ping, a wealthy Portuguese subject of 48 Yuhang Road, caused a young Chinese woman to walk in the Chinese Public Garden carrying an umbrella of a certain design. The blackmailers expected to collect the $3,000 from the young woman, but when three of them accosted her they were seized by Chinese detectives and within an hour after their arrest three of their confederates also were taken in a dwelling on Miller Road.

The six suspects are Cantonese and the police believe they have been trying to introduce into Shanghai tong activities like those in Southern China and in cities in America which have Chinatowns. It was impossible yesterday to proceed with the cases against the six prisoners in the Mixed Court by reason of the absence from the hearing of any member of Lung Ping's family who might act as a complaining witness. The police explained that the fears of the family have been aroused to such an extent that they are fearful of appearing openly against the gangsters. Documents the police seized were presented. These indicate that the six suspects are members of the Chung Oo Wah Jee, or "Long Life Society," an organisation said to be notorious for criminal activities in the south. The case was continued.

Mrs. Gordon-West's Opinion of "Kirby's Sea-Sick Cure"

Park Lane,
February 4, 1913.

Messrs. COLLINS & ROSS,
154 Hermondsey St., London.

DEAR SIRS,

Until my last voyage to New York I dreaded sea travelling. Hitherto I had been so susceptible to sea-sickness that I could not leave my bed during the whole of the voyage. Even when travellin by train I have been obliged to lie down.

Before leaving for New York, I was persuaded to take "KIRBY'S SEA-SICK CURE" and was surprised to find that I not only avoided sea-sickness, but was entirely free from nausea of any kind. We had very rough seas during the greater part of the voyage, but I took all my meals in the saloon, and never felt better.

I shall never travel without the cure in future. You should make the remedy widely known, for it will be a boon to thousands.

Yours gratefully,
(Signed) MARY GORDON-WEST.

Hongkong Cricketers Not Confident Of S'hai Game

Services Team Which Plays Here Next Month Not Yet Selected

Hongkong cricket enthusiasts are just as much at sea as to the composition of the eleven which will visit here early next month to play Shanghai for interport honors, as the local followers of the game are as to the make-up of the Shanghai eleven. In fact the people in the South know nothing about the team make-up due to the fact that the Garrison captain has not yet learned who of his men will be available for the trip.

It is likely now, if Hongkong gossip goes for anything that the team which will meet Shanghai on or about May 11 will be a Services team, composed from the Garrison players supplemented by the Naval sportsmen. The Southern port is hopeful of putting out a strong team from the combined branches of the service, and of retrieving their laurels lost here last year in the big interport match with Shanghai.

The Hongkong military men have received some notable recruits since last year, in Major Matthews R.G.A., Captain Le Fleming (King's), Captain Dods, Lieut. White and others. Of the old lot, Capt. Davies and Capt. Olliver are certainties if both can get away. Then there are Captain Spinks, Bdr. Baker, Major Bagnall, Lieut. Graham, and half a dozen others. Selection will not be easy. Of the Naval men, Lieut. Franks will be an appreciable addition as wicket keeper. Then there are Rev. Crole Rees, Rev. Purcell, Com. Drew, Com. Edgell, Mid. Hayter, Lt. Stewart and others, all possibilities.

The Southerners are not confident of winning the spring interport match, but they hope to play a stronger game than their team of last autumn put up here.

Carpentier To Rest After Operation

Paris, March 9.—Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, will be confined to his room for several days as a result of yesterday's operation for an infected condition of the throat. Carpentier told correspondents today that while the operation was not serious enough to require that he remain in bed he would stay indoors for the next few days and then leave for a month's rest in the country.

When he returns to Paris he will resume training for his bout with Ted Lewis, scheduled to be fought in London on May 11.

Baseball League To Number Players

Chicago, March 14.—Identification of football players by numbers having been accomplished after much complaining by coaches that their strategic plans would be ruined, it now is proposed that numerals be fastened on baseball players. The Midwest Baseball Association, a circuit comprised of several strong semi-professional teams, at its annual meeting here last night decided that players in league games this summer must wear numerals on their sleeves corresponding to score card numbers.

Lawn Bowls Ass'n Elect New Officers

A meeting of the Shanghai Lawn Bowls Association was held at the Marine Engineers Institute on Thursday the 20th ult. when delegates from all the local bowling clubs were present. BY "BUGS" BAER

By the time the feathers are blooming on the swan boats in Central Park, New Yorkers will be spotting the best baseball team ever herded together under one cloudy sky.

That's the Giants.

Home bugs are naturally interested in their teams, and while the Giants have no Babe Ruth bouncing on their bench, there is one thing they have. And that's the best disciplined outfit in the works.

There will be games lost this season. But they won't be dropped because of any spasms of temperament on the part of primma donna stars. You can't pick out any brilliant planets out of the Giant constellation. But they are there, just the same as they are in the Milky Way.

It's even jack that by the time Groh, Bancroft, Frisch and Kelly kick all the pebbles out of the Polo Grounds infield, that this quartette will outdraw Ruth. Sounds something like a waldus barking, but it comes pretty close to being a certified rumor.

That's four men against one. But the package wouldn't be complete with one missing. Old-time cuckooes used to rattle out to see famous combinations that were noted for their teamwork. Frank Chance was a demon, but you never spoke of Frank without including Evers and Tinker.

Until the time that Frazee sold the plantation Tris Speaker was mentioned just as often with Hooper and Lewis as he was individually. The old Red Sox outfield was featured as a trio and not as units.

Same with Giants' infield.

There are also no bozos or shillabers in the outfield. In fact, everything is up to the pitchers. The Giants will win with good throwing. And they will come pretty close to grabbing again with bad slinging.

Put that in your hookah and gargle it.

Yep; looks like another World's Series at the Polo Picnic Grounds.

Barring accidents.

New Challenger In H'kong Billiards

Hongkong, April 20.—P. A. Yvanovich, who lost the billiard championship of the Colony to the youthful A. J. Osmund last year, won the position of challenger for this year at the V.R.C. last night, when he beat the champion's twin brother, L. A. Osmund, in the final of the tournament by 1,000 points to 850.

Plugging along very stolidly after allowing Yvanovich to get a lead of 172 points, Osmund promised to give the match an exciting finish. He drew level at 600—and then fell away again. Yvanovich supplemented a greater experience with consistent play, and the better man won.

The best break of the evening, which is also the best break of the tournament, was Osmund's 72. Yvanovich's best was 63. The previous best break was 53.

Hoosier Captain Leads His Men Against Japs

Thirteen members of the University of Indiana baseball team are now in Japan to play the Waseda and other University teams. The Hoosier squad is piloted by Captain Walker, also a pitcher, who is shown here. The team will forego games with American college teams and will remain in the Orient for two months. In previous years Wisconsin and Chicago University teams have gone to Japan for such games.

Kobe Boat Races Win Big Applause

Kobe, April 12.—Foreign residents in Kobe have seldom laughed so heartily as they did at the opening of the boathouse of the Kobe Regatta and Athletic Club for the season at the beach of Mirume last Saturday afternoon when a series of "scratch" regatta matches with ladies as coxswains were held.

There were ten competing teams and three heats were rowed. The participants were divided into teams according to their business and among the teams were such as the exporters, importers, shippers, insurance men, bankers, and oil men. Some rowed splendidly while others evidently manifested lack of team work.

Perhaps never before were more interesting races held in the port, although the rowing of a scratch regatta has been customary to mark the official opening of the boathouse for the last few years. People who went to the beach were fully repaid and they laughed most heartily as each of the events proved very amusing. After the races, Mr. P. H. McKay, president of the club, presented prizes to those ladies who acted as coxswains of winning boats.

Indiana Baseball Nine Opens Series In Japan

Best Teams Of Nippon To Meet Stars Of The Hoosier School

(Special To The China Press)

Tokio, April 22.—The University of Indiana Baseball team which arrived here on the Keystone State from the States last Friday will open their Far Eastern Schedule on the Waseda diamond this afternoon against the famous Japanese baseball university. The Hoosier team has not given out its schedule but it is understood that 12 games are to be played, probably two of them in Kobe or Osaka. The latter city is the home of the Diamond nine which played in the Olympics and open games at Shanghai a year ago. Waseda, Keio and Meiji universities, which have the strongest teams will play the majority of the 12 games.

The Indiana team is headed by Coach George Levis and Professor C. E. Edmundson, dean of men at the Indiana institution, representing the faculty on the trip.

Coach Levis, who is directing the team is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in 1916. He was a noted basketball and baseball star when a student there.

The members of the team are: James Walker, Bloomington, Indiana, pitcher, third year on team; Ward Gilbert, Kokomo, Indiana, pitcher, second year on team; Harry Gause, Milton, Indiana, pitcher, first year on team; Emmons Clay, North Salem, Indiana, first year on team; Robert Kydd, Brazil, Indiana, catcher, second year on team; Rankin Denny, Indianapolis, first base, first year on team; Joe Sloate, Akron, Ohio, second base, first year on team; James D. Knight, shortstop, Lowell, Indiana, first year on team, Leonard Ruckelhaus, Indianapolis, right field, second year on team; Leland Mayer, Evansville, third base, first year on team; Walter Wichterman, Hagerstown, Indiana, center field, first year on team, and Harold D. Lynch, Evansville, left field, second year on team.

Roscoe Minton, former Indiana football captain and a graduate in 1921, is assistant coach. The Indiana team is staying at the Tsukiji Seiyoken Hotel.

The Indiana aggregation expects to sail for America about the middle of next month, returning to the university in time for commencement.

Christian Background Greatest Peace Factor

many prisoner-of-war camps which I visited; but last year in the belt of nations reaching from Finland and North Russia on the Baltic down to the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, more men, women and children died from disease and from results of malnutrition than were killed or died from disease in all the armies on both sides of the war in any one year of the struggle.

"Europe, yes, and Asia and other continents are likewise diseased and imperiled. Great physical diseases, such as the typhus, spread from land to land, and death is reaping its millions of victims. There are international political distempers, notably Bolshevism in its most malignant form, which is still casting seams of weakness across the less highly organised nations. The moral breakdown of the youth of the nations is most alarming. And yet I do not agree with Anatole France that 'all Europe is dying.' All Europe, all Asia, large parts of Africa, Latin-America, and other areas of the world are very, very sick, but not dying. Their sickness is like unto that which we associate with new birth. I reiterate, nations are being reborn. How true is the language of Christ, 'Behold, I am re-creating all things!'

WORLD TODAY PLASTIC

"It is most reassuring that we can say that the world today is plastic. The titanic forces which have been working overtime in recent years have made the whole world molten. It is fluid, it is running, but it will soon set like plaster on the wall. The central question before all nations is: In what molds shall the new and plastic world set? Shall they be the old materialistic, militaristic molds, or the molds of idealism, brotherhood and constructive service?

"If someone had asked me seven years ago what would be the last nation in Europe or in the world to change, I would have said without hesitation, Russia. And yet Russia is today the most plastic of all the nations—dangerously so and yet, let us add, most hopefully so. Now she is in the hands of blind leaders of the blind and is being tumbled into ever deeper ditches. The other nations must furnish her true and unselfish guidance. A most hopeful sign is that the nations today are humbled and teachable. This is something new. In what a different attitude and temper the nations have come together in Washington from what characterised them in general as they assembled in Paris three years ago. A spirit of open-minded humility makes possible true greatness. We look out all over the world on expectant nations. While they have been disillusioned, and while many of them have come under the spell of pessimism and despair, there are vast numbers, including almost every land, who look today with hearts bounding with wistful expectation. This is true of every backward people, every depressed race, every oppressed class of human society. It is significant also that it is equally true of the aggressive and more self-contained and forward-looking nations.

"What are the demands which such an international situation makes upon our churches?

CALLS FOR REALITY

"We must generate the atmosphere in which nations come to loathe to differ and to determine to understand. We must sound the note of reality which is the opposite of hypocrisy and formalism. The world is impatient with sham. In every way in our power we must further international thinking, international planning, international fellowship and international action. We are summoned to bring to bear on international relations the principles and spirit of Jesus Christ. In a long conversation I had with Viscount Grey, he emphasised as the great need of the world 'the moral dominance of international affairs.' The Christians have a consistent and efficient system of ethics for the individual. In the social sphere, notably in the industrial area, the fight is on, and it is reassuring to find both among employers and employees a growing recognition of the reign of Christ and his principles. In national life some of our nations honor God. In our international affairs, however, we have not yet begun to attain in the sense that we stake all in our international politics and policies on the principles and spirit of Jesus. The moment has come to yield all to his sway and to trust to the limit in our relations with other nations such guiding and immutable and fully efficient principles as the infinite worth not only of the individual, but of each people; Christ the Lord of all relationships of men, social, international, interracial; the brotherhood of men; the serving of other nations and peoples and not their exploitation; the nations and races members of one another and therefore necessary to the another; the Golden Rule; and the universal application of the law of love, even to the loving and serving of enemy nations. The hand of Christ must be placed on the universities, colleges and schools of the world, for they furnish the leaders of tomorrow in the realm of thought and action. We must Christianise the impact of our so-called Western civilisation on the rest of the world through conducting our commercial, industrial, financial, diplomatic and social relations with other peoples according to the principles of our religion.

NEED MISSION EXPANSION

"If these revolutionary, transforming, and omnipotent principles are to become truly regnant in international affairs, then there must be an enormous expansion of Christian missions, both home missions and foreign missions. These constitute the great and the true internationalism. The missionaries and the churches are the effective mediators and interpreters between nations and peoples. The great function of the church is to create the atmosphere and the background where Christ's ideals can flourish. The forces of Christ must supplement the political arrangements of men. In vain the launching of the League of Nations, in vain the repeated meetings of the Allied Council in Paris and elsewhere, in vain the association of nations at Washington, in vain the present meeting at Genoa unless we fill in these forms with living content.

"Peace and good will among the nations is not a matter of external arrangements, of national legislation and of international agreements, but of internal spiritual changes. In the power of Christ man's attitude and outlook must be transformed. The springs of motive must be touched and dominated. It is first and last a superhuman work. May God help us, one and all, to go out under the leadership of Christ to serve in this day of international misunderstanding, friction and strife, and likewise in this most hopeful moment in the life of nations in their relation to each other, as apostles of reconciliation."

Miss Mohini Maya Das, the Association National General Secretary for the National Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association of India, Burma and Ceylon, made a striking picture in her flowing, bright colored Indian costume. She was announced to speak on "The India of the Past, Present and the Future."

Her address was a simple but stirring appeal for an effort on the part of Westeners to understand and know the peoples of the East among whom they live, whether of India or China. Great influences have been brought to bear on the ancient culture of India but to her mind the greatest single influence was the coming of Christ to India. True, the Christ who was brought to India by Westeners was a bruised and mutilated Christ, but such is the purity of His spirit and the truth of His teachings that even this disfigured Christ has brought new life to the country. The influence of spirit is to be seen, the speaker said, in the great reform sects of Hinduism, such as the Brahmo Saniaj, which is more Christian in its ideals than Hindu.

The great political leader Ghandi is a non-Christian, yet he reads the Bible daily and he states that he bases his reform program on the Sermon on the Mount.

The population of India and China combined form nearly one-half of the world's population, Jesus Christ has been brought to these countries by the West, the speaker stated, and great is the responsibility of Westeners. The people of the East are copying the West. Would you, she asked the audience with forceful simplicity, "have us copy your industrial system as it now is? Your social system? and your religion? What is your real purpose in living among us?—to use our country as a dumping ground for your goods? or to exploit our labor? The East has received much from the West which is good but it has something of good to give the West. The need is for a knowledge and understanding of each other that the great cause of internationalism as against a narrow nationalism may be promoted."

Christian Students Seen As World Force By Mott

Christianity as the power of uniting all races, nations and peoples and of bringing all students into the brotherhood of men was the keynote of an eloquent address delivered by Dr. John R. Mott last night at the Great Eastern Hotel in the course of a dinner given in honor of the "International Team" of delegates to the World's Students Christian Federation. More than 600 thronged the spacious hall of the hotel, including men and women of many different nationalities.

It was a truly cosmopolitan gathering and internationalism featured the remarks made by every speaker. Representatives of China, the United States, South America, Switzerland, India and Russia sent greetings. Dr. David Z. T. Yui, people's delegate to the Washington Conference and general secretary of the National Committee, Y.M.C.A., was toastmaster. The Glee Club of the Shanghai Baptist College sang under the direction of Professor Anderson.

"We are fundamentally one," said Dr. Yui, in his opening remarks. "The gathering we are having here tonight makes it shame to think that war between races and nations are inevitable. If war is inevitable, we ought to be fighting here tonight. This gathering convinces me that we can bring races and countries together in functions of this kind and we propose to have many similar occasions of this nature. Through mutual understanding we will lubricate the smooth running of the international wheel of co-operation."

RUSSIAN DELEGATE SPEAKS

Mr. Alexander Nikitin of Russia stated that Western civilisation will collapse in calamity if the people do not accept Christ. The different problems of China, India, South America, Turkey and other nations were essentially the same and if Christianity is accepted as a living force by all, the catastrophes and calamities would be avoided. The recent conference, he said, has revealed to the people of the world Christianity as a living force.

Mr. Emmanuel Galland, of Switzerland, spoke briefly and Miss Kate B. George, of the United States, while regretting that time compelled her to refrain from discussing some of the currents of new senses for social order for working men and women and their attitude towards war, was glad that she had the honor of representing 140,000 men and women college students in America, and could come to a country which she loved. In her travels from college to college, Miss George had acquainted herself with many Chinese women students.

Miss D. Maya Das of India asserted that India had great sympathy for China in her national aspirations, because many problems of the two countries are essentially the same. She wished that more of her fellow-countrymen would come to China and learn more of this wonderful country, and bring the two peoples into closer co-operation.

Miss R. M. Muskrat denied that her race, the Indians in America, was a dying race, as many writers put it, although she did represent the smallest race in the world. There are 100,000 Red Indian students in America, and this is the first time that the Red Indian had been represented at a Christian Student Conference. This has been considered a special mark of progress.

Miss Phoebe Hoh of the Y. W. C. A. assured her audience that the 20 days she spent in Peking under "an extraordinary atmosphere of internationalism," had convinced her that national and international problems may be solved without resorting to war. The existence of international hatred had made our lives sometimes almost not worth living, but in a spirit of Christian brotherhood, men and women of different races and countries may work and play together and absolute peace and friendship prevail.

DR. MOTT'S ADDRESS

Dr. Mott, being introduced as a world citizen, a world Christian and a true friend to all races and nations, was given a great ovation. He first analysed the words of the toastmaster in styling the gathering as one with an international atmosphere, which he said was most discerning to him, because he valued atmosphere more than any other single factor.

While quoting extensively the work of Bismark and English authors, the speaker pointed out that the leaders in student movement eventually become leaders in other walks of life. Universities and colleges teach the teacher, preach to the preachers and govern the governors. This was why the greatest significance was attached to the recent conference in Peking.

Many would like to ask the question whether Christianity was losing its hold on the thinking students or increasing its power over them. To this, Dr. Mott maintained that the Christian spirit is decidely on the increase among students. Never before had there been so many students devoting their life work to Christianity. Never before had so many students embraced the Christian faith. The student Christian movement is a world movement. It is not confined to any race or country. It is neither an Anglo-Saxon institution, nor a Germanic federation, still less an American institution Slavic, African and Oriental peoples have no special claim over the movement although the federation has done wonders in all. It cannot be confined to any one race or nation. It is a movement of all students of the world who are preparing themselves for leadership.

"Is it not then a sublime light to see when all these leaders are imbibing the Christian spirit and preparing for the regeneration of the entire human society?" queried Dr. Mott. "I am glad to record my own conviction that these students are all accepting Christ for the ethical and spiritual welfare of the students' world."

Dr. Mott here illustrated with several instances of the services being done by Christian associations in various colleges in America and Europe as well as in other countries. There is today a larger proportion of students who are Christians, he said, and a larger proportion of students who are interested in movements which vitally believe in Christ, than ever.

The World Student Christian Federation is seeking to strengthen the hand of every nation. The opinion of the young men and women in college is dominating the public opinion of every country; so, to interest the students with the pressing problems of the day and apply the principles of Christianity to them, will strengthen the national life of each country.

SERVICE FOR HUMANITY

Education is not for private betterment but for the service of humanity. Today, when every source of authority is being questioned, new pillars are being developed for the church. Inquiries of construction generally improve the world. Not only ministers and apostles, but laymen are beginning to apply the principles of the Christian faith and to make it a living power. This is surely a sign of great promise.

Already the effect of this inquiry is being felt. There have been too many different kinds or denominations of Christianity; China may yet startle the world by establishing a unified Church, sink the minor differences and present a united front. But Christianity, in spite of its many denominations and communions, will not cease to stand together.

Coming to the conference in Peking, Dr. Mott stated that representatives of 32 countries, after a conference lasting 12 days of fellowship and prayer, have declared war on all causes of war and on war as a means of settling disputes. The recent action of French and German students in sitting in council to deliberate over the cause of war is a clear example of how war may ultimately be eliminated. Dr. Mott learned also that a delegation of British students is going to Germany to inquiry into means whereby international hostilities may cease.

"If the rising tide of interest, passion and thought receives the wise guidance of Christianity," said Dr. Mott in conclusion, "the new power of peace and good will cannot only be discovered but realised."

The dinner was given under the auspices of The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, The Pan-Pacific Association, Shanghai American University Club, American Returned Students' Club, American Women's College Club, Shanghai Women's Club, Shanghai Business Women's Club, Women's Returned Student's Club, World's Chinese Students' Federation, Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association.

Dr. Mott will leave for Hangchow today where he will address the Hangchow Y. M. C. A. He will return to Shanghai on Thursday evening.

The entire foreign delegation, 41 strong, will be guests of honor at a dinner to be given by the National Committee, Y. M. C. A., on Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Yih Ping Shang Hotel. These delegates represent 16 countries.

SOVIET EDICT HITS BRITISH, REVIVES ROW

(Reuta News Agency)

Moscow, April 21.—The Russo-British controversy regarding fishing rights along the Northern Russian coast has been revived, owing to the Soviet decree of May 25, 1921, forbidding foreign trawlers the rights of fishing within twelve miles of the Northern coast.

The British Government admits that the Russian territorial rights extend only three miles off coast.

International law gives no definite principles exactly defining territorial coast rights and the negotiations between the British Government and the Soviet Trade Delegation in London brought no settlement, each maintaining its interpretation regarding territorial limits for foreign fishing off Russian Northern coast.

At the opening of the fishing season this year numerous British trawlers started extensive fishing within Russian territorial waters leading to a tragic mishap to the Russian trawler "Magneto" through collision, with the loss of several lives. The Russian Government persistently protested against the infringement of the territorial rights and declares its intention to enforce the decree.

Mr. Hodgson, the British trade representative in Moscow, handed a note to acting Commissar of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Karahan, stating that the British Government refuses to recognize the fishing prohibition beyond three miles limit and demanding non-interference with British fishing.

The note warns that Great Britain will immediately dispatch warships, which indicates a desire to settle by armed force the international law controversy. The Russian Government finds such a procedure as sending warships to prevent Russian authorities from enforcing the official decree as radically contradictional to proceeding correspondence between Russia and Britain upon this subject and furthermore contrary to the Genoa spirit which seeks other methods of settling international disputes than sending warships. The Russian Government hopes that Great Britain will recall this unwarranted order, otherwise the Russian Government would be compelled to send armed naval force to protect its fishing industries.

Shanghai Bankers Express Concern For Salt Revenue

Wire Peking To Exercise Care In Naming Gamble's Successor

Concern regarding the future of the salt revenue administration is expressed and the government is exhorted to exercise great care in selecting a successor to the recently resigned associate chief inspector, Sir Reginald Gamble, in a telegram addressed to the Cabinet and Ministry of Finance by the Shanghai Bankers' Association.

The text of the telegram is as follows:

"Of late years the Government has issued a number of bonds and Treasury Certificates which are secured largely on the Salt Surplus. Sir Reginald Gamble, the associate chief inspector of Salt Revenue, has during his office contributed a great deal to the enforcement of the regulation for the various issues and to the maintenance of the Government credit. We regret to learn that he has tendered his rsignation. The appointment of the successor lies within the power of Government, with which we are not in a position to interfere. But, in view of the bond market and the general financial conditions being closely connected with the maintenance of the Salt Surplus as security for the bonds, we bankers are therefore obliged to see that the funds are safely kept. We earnestly expect that the Government will with greatest care select such a successor as will be familiar with the conditions in our salt administration and able to maintain the integrity of the security, so that the general credit will be preserved and business benefited."

Irish Factions Declare Truce

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 23.—The Dublin correspondent of the Westminster Gazette understands authoritatively that an agreement has been reached between the military leaders of the Republican and the Free State sections of the Irish Army for a cessation of hostilities. The agreement is purely military and does not affect the political issue. The people will be left freely to pronounce upon the treaty.

Indigestion and Constipation.

Shanghai Union Club Holds Annual Meeting

General reports for the year of the activities of the Union Club were presented yesterday at the annual meeting of the Union Club Proprietary Ltd., the club's governing organisation. After the reading of the address of Mr. P. W Massey, the Chairman, three resolutions were adopted.

The first resolution, proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. Chu Pao-san, accepted the report and accounts as rendered. The second, proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. C. J. S. Mackay, was the re-election as directors of Mr. Brooke-Smith and Mr. Chu Pao-san. The third resolution, proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. G. Drakeford, reappointed Lowe, Bingham and Matthews auditors for the year.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The Chairman's address was as follows:

As the report and accounts for the year ending December 31, 1921, have been in your hands for some time, I shall, with your permission, take them as read.

You will observe that the balance at credit of profit and loss account, after providing for a fairly drastic writing down of stocks, only amounts to Tls. 92.05, which we propose to carry forward to next year's account.

We believe that the assets as regards furniture and fittings, after allowing for the furniture reserve account, are now correctly valued and that if the company goes on writing off 10 percent per annum depreciation we shall continue to maintain a sound position in this regard.

When, however, we consider the item of Tls. 11,748.25 appearing as a debt owing to us by the Union Club, I am afraid we cannot say quite as much. It is certain the Club cannot meet this indebtedness at the moment and until they can show a profit on working account this item is bound to increase.

The situation has to be faced and I am assured by the President of the Club that the recently elected committee have the matter very much at heart and will use every endeavor to reduce expenses or increase their income so that the desired end may be attained. As we all know it is the purpose of this company to sponsor the Club and to carry it over the difficult period which it is bound to encounter during the early years of its existence. Now that they are so comfortably housed and can look forward to an indefinite time for a fair period it is appropriate that the problem of making their expenditure fit in with their income be seriously tackled.

I do not think there is anything else in the accounts calling for comment, but before formally proposing their adoption I shall be glad to answer to the best of my ability any questions which shareholders may wish to ask.

FIVE DAYS ATTRACTION — Commencing Wednesday, April 26th — FIVE DAYS ATTRACTION

"IT IS NOTHING TO YOU?"

This inscription stands out in a stained glass window design of Christ on the Cross, placed at the rear of the altar in St. Mary's, London, where Folly Vallance, actress, is married to Anthony Bond, Canadian millionaire.

It sets the motivs for the whole piece—an appeal for sincerity in the marriage relationship. A super-fashionable wedding; a wonderful honeymoon; a country place; a town mansion; unlimited wealth—everything was as ashes to both bride and groom because jealousy, suspicion and the artificiality of modern society life had driven out the saving grace of love.

JUST WHAT IS THE PRICE of HAPPINESS?

May it be purchased with money, position, or admiration?

The night after their fashionable wedding found Folly and Anthony Bond in the Monte Carlo Hotel whither they had come by airplane on their honeymoon. Anthony was exclaiming: "I am envied by many, but I should not be, for I have married a very beautiful woman who does not love me." "THE FURNACE," one of the most lavishly and beautifully produced plays ever put on the screen, proves conclusively that love is the only tie which can bind with happiness the lives of a man and woman. Marriage is a "Furnace" otherwise.

KIANGSU TUCHUN MAKING WARLIKE MOVEMENTS TOO

Second Division Is Despatched to Hsuchowfu; Shensi Tuchun Arriving

(Special Wire to THE CHINA PRESS*)*

Nanking, April 24.—The Second Division has been ordered to duty in Hsuchowfu in view of the pending conflict between Fengtien and Chihli. The sixth division under the direct command of Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan in this city has been instructed to stand by.

All vacancies in the ranks and files of the local forces have been filled by coolies and beggars. The appearance of youthful beggars and ricsha coolies is now rare in the streets.

An atmosphere of highest tension prevails in this and neighboring cities despite the circular telegram of the Tuchun pledging his troops for the protection of life and property within his province.

From Hsuchowfu it is learned that the forces of General Feng Yu-hsiang, the Shensi Tuchun, are being transferred to the Kiangsu city by the Lunghai Railway. Confirmation of this report is being awaited with much anxiety as the move would give the province better protection from the North. General Feng, it is expected, will take over the command of the Second Division as soon as he arrives in Hsuchowfu.

Outlook For Conference Improved

with the delegations of the convening Powers, had never suggested that the London proposals afforded no basis for discussion in the Conference and that the German delegation was about to conclude a separate treaty with Russia.

The allegation that the informal discussions with the Russians on the subject of the recognition of their debts exposed the Germans to the risk of being confronted with a scheme unacceptable to Germany was equally unfounded, as no scheme could have been accepted by the Conference without the fullest discussion by the committees on which Germany was represented equally with the other Powers.

CALM PREVAILS

London, April 22.—After a day of alarums Genoa calmed somewhat today as a result of the Allies' meeting at which Mr. Lloyd George protested against the daily crises.

The Franco-German trouble, however, drags on. The latest development is that Dr. Wirth has written to Signor Facta protesting energetically against the words and "lying accusations" in the French letter addressed to the Secretariat of the Conference and the Allied Governments, as contrary to the spirit of the Genoa Conference.

It is hoped that things will be patched up at tomorrow's meeting to enable the Conference to start on Monday its real work on economic questions, but much bitterness is still manifest. Paris is threatening still to clog the wheels if not to nullify the Conference. A hopeful sign is that the Russians manifest anxiety to prevent a breakdown. High tribute has been paid to the Italians who have been described as apostles of conciliation.

Sir Robert Horne who has arrived back in London to prepare the budget, expressed his satisfaction that the most important steps in the rehabilitation of Europe's finance has been taken.

London, April 22.—It is reported from Genoa that a treaty has been signed between the Vatican and Russia permitting the entrance of Jesuits and Franciscans for educational and other purposes.

RUSS BACK DOWN

Genoa, April 22.—At the outset of the sitting of the Russian affairs sub-committee M. Leydoux, acting on instructions from M. Barthou, declared that he could not continue to sit on the sub-committee owing to the Russians' publication of a memorandum which contradicted the Cannes resolutions and M. Chicherin's previous letter. M. Leydoux and his colleagues then withdrew and were followed by the Japanese. The Charman, Sir. L. Worthington-Evans, thereupon declared the sitting closed. The Russian representatives immediately announced the withdrawal of the memorandum to which exception had been taken, pointing out that Russia's intentions had been misunderstood.

London, April 22.—Addressing the German colony at Genoa last evening, Dr. Wirth, the German Chancellor, said that the Russo-German treaty broke the chains of financial slavery menacing Germany, which refused to annul the treaty, although she was willing to incorporate it in a general wider agreement.

DELEGATES DINE

Genoa, April 22.—At a remarkable gathering on board the Italian battleship, Dante Alighieri, King Victor Emanuel gave a luncheon to the Conference Delegates, including MM. Krassin and Chicherin, with whom he conversed in the most amiable way. The Russians were dressed conventionally and their bearing was strictly diplomatic. Mr. Lloyd George sat in the place of honor on the King's right and M. Barthou on his left. There were a hundred and seventy guests.

Genoa, April 22.—The King of Italy arrived here today, on his first visit since the war and was given an ovation by the crowds. The city was en fete.

After an uneventful morning's work by the Commissions and also a meeting of the British Empire delegation, which expressed the opinion that the Russo-German incident was closed as Germany had accepted one of the alternatives laid down by the Powers, a bombshell was thrown into the Conference in the afternoon in the shape of two French protests addressed respectively to the Secretariat of the Conference and the Allied Governments, declaring that the Russo-German Treaty was a violation of the Cannes Resolutions and the Treaty of Versailles, and accusing the Germans of untruthfulness. It was therefore incompatible with the dignity of the Allies to collaborate any longer with the Germans in the subcommittee on Russian affairs, and demanding an immediate meeting of the Ten Powers which had signed the reprimand to Germany to consider the situation.

DENY MILITARY PACT

Berlin, April 22.—An official statement categorically denies the existence of a Russo-German military convention.

Original Robber Gets Mouthful Of Gems With Teeth

By using his teeth an original Chinese highwayman filched a mouthful of diamonds in the early watches of the day yesterday in Hankow Road. The missing germs are worth $2,400.

According to the report presented to the police yesterday morning Tsang Wang-sz was riding through Hankow Road shortly after 1 o'clock when she was seized by one of a group of Chinese who had suddenly surrounded her. A rough hand tore two gold earrings from her ears and then one of her assailants seized her hand, attempting to remove from it a ring set with two large diamonds. She resisted, clenching her fist and screaming, and in this emergency the robber bit the two stones out of their setting and fled with his companions.

Shantung Railway Guards At Weihsien

(China Press Correspondence)

Weihsien, Shantung, April 21.—The new Chinese Railway Guards with their trim new uniforms reached here yesterday. It is reported that the Japanese Guards are to leave on Sunday. There was some excitement in the city when the new guards came as reports were current two days ago that General Chang Tsung-chang and his following from Fengtien were soon to come up this way from Tsingtao, and the rumor spread that they had arrived. There was relief felt when it was found that the new soldiers were the railway guards.

The fear of General Chang's arrival has caused a number of the gentry to slip quietly away to Tsinan, Shanghai and other places. Many of the merchants have packed up their goods and sent them away for fear of looting. Large numbers of Manchurian robbers are said to be in the eastern part of the Province and there is great uneasiness among the people lest they come up this way within the next few days.

Work on the Chefoo-Weihsien road is apparently at a standstill. With the exception of two of the larger bridges the road is through to Lungkow, and much of the earth work is done between there and Chefoo. The road is badly cut up in many places by cross roads. The auto and trucks of the construction engineers occasionally come through to Weihsien. A few days ago one of the Laichowfu missionaries came through on his motorcycle making the 240 li in three hours. Residents greatly regret that when the work is so nearly completed it cannot be finished at once.

A good rain during the last twenty-four hours has brought rejoicing to the farmers and the prospects for the wheat crop are now very good.

Japan's Grip On China Tightened, Dr. Sun Contends

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 22.—The Chicago Tribune's request for a statement evoked a telegraphic message from Dr. Sun Yat-sen from Kweilin, as his expedition had started for the North, saying that China will be reunited this year and that civil supremacy will be established over military authority.

It also stated that Japan's ability and power to prosecute her policy of ascendency in China has been increased and not diminished by the Washington Conference as the American naval power has been eliminated and this may well have an adverse effect on China.

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, April 23.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen arrived here last night. Troops under the command of Generals Hsu Tsung-chih and Huang Tai-wei are also returning to Canton by boats.

Premier Urges Customs Men To Use Common Sense

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, April 18. — At the meeting of the heads of the Customs House yesterday the Premier, Viscount Takahashi, in his capacity of Minister of Finance said:—

"The quantity and value of goods imported have a great influence on the country's foreign trade and producers' and foreign traders' business. The importance of precise statistical returns by the custom houses cannot be overemphasised. Attention should be called to the prompt inspection of goods at custom houses and the proper treatment of bonded goods. In inspecting the personal effects of travellers, the social status of travellers should be taken into consideration and special care should be taken not to spoil the first impression of Japan of foreign visitors. To protect special branches of industry the Government has revised the customs tariff duty on copper imported for re-export after manufacture, also for shipbuilding material, iron and zinc."

GERMANY'S PAYMENTS

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 22.—A communique issued by the Reparations Commission shows that Germany paid 1,000,000,000 gold marks in 1921, and another 282,000,000 up to March 21, 1922.

The Commission has now arranged a new system of payments amounting to 18,000,000 gold marks payable on April 15, 1922, which was duly met, 50,000,000 payable each month until next October, then 60,000,000 payable each November and December.

Big Fire At Chefoo Threatens To Sweep Foreign Section

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, April 16.—Fires are unusual occurrences locally and that is why the big fire which broke out last night is regarded as such an important event, and the large numbers who are visiting the smouldering ruins show how interested the Chinese and foreigners of Chefoo are in the conflagration which, for a while in the very early hours of this morning threatened to be an even more serious matter than it was. It commenced in a small place and when first seen was regarded as being nothing to trouble about. By this I mean to convey the impression that the few foreigners who saw it did not think it was sufficient to warrant giving up sleep, and so went to bed. But less than half an hour later the fire had gotten a grip and was soon one of the biggest flares that we have experienced locally.

When the flames leapt up and it was realised how inadequate are the fire arrangements in the place, speculation was rife as to whether most of the foreign section would not be demolished But, fortunately, this did not happen. By devoting attention to the outlying buildings and pouring all the water that could be procured on to them the flames did not spread as some feared they would. This must not give the impression that little damage was done or that the fire was quickly got under. All night the local fire brigade, the police and a number of willing helpers did all that they could to bring under the flames and they succeeded very well. There are big smouldering heaps this morning and flames here and there can be seen, but there is not danger of the fire either breaking out again or occurring.

Those who saw it last night and those who have been to see the charred ruins and the extensive damage sustained are unanimously of the opinion that the foreign section had a very narrow escape. The damage done is extensive enough for a lot of property has been destroyed, but taking into account the inadequacy of the fire apparatus and the limited quantities of water that could be utilised it is truly marvellous that the blaze was as limited as it was and that this section is standing this morning.

The Missionary Survey

THE National Christian Conference, soon to covene in the town hall, differs from all of its predecessors not only because Chinese representatives of the Church are to attend for the first time in equal proportion with the foreign representatives, but also because the deliberations of this Conference are to be based for the first time on a careful and comprehensive survey of the present degree of Christian occupation in China. This great study has just appeared from the press in the form of a magnificent atlas-sized volume of almost 600 pages. It contains over 500 outline maps and diagrams. No phase of Protestant Christian work in any part of China has been omitted in this great study. The Survey has taken years to complete and responsibility for the work has been carried by a special committee on Survey and Occupation, appointed annually by the China Continuation Committee.

The Survey is limited, as reference to the title page of the report shows, to the quantitative aspects of the Christian Occupation of China, especially to the numerical strength and geographical extent of the Protestant Christian forces. Qualitative aspects of occupation are scarcely touched upon.

The various commissions in preparing their reports for the National Conference have had advance copies of this report and the information thus supplied to them has directly contributed to the value of their work. With the quantitative aspects of occupation so comprehensively treated, the second step of qualitative studies and judgments is made much easier. Moreover it is possible to visualise before the minds of the delegates as never before, not only the strength and extent of Christian work with such challenge of the unworked areas as this may give but also to give a clear idea of the location of work and the places, which will be most effected by any outside change in future programs of occupation or changes in administration.

The statistics presented in the Survey were gathered during the winter and spring of 1918-19. The Report begins with a splendid series of studies of the present political, geographical, lingual, social, economic and religious conditions in China today. The Christian Church does not float in a vacuum; it effects and is conditioned by the country and the community it serves. In Part II the more significant changes which have taken place in the character and magnitude of the Christian occupation of China since 1900 are chronicled. Parts III and VII present detailed studies of the provinces and large administrative districts. This is followed by studies of special features of Christian work. There is an entire section devoted to the missionary activities of the Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox Churches in China, and elsewhere in the book the study of Christian Occupation is expressed in terms of both Protestant and Roman Catholic works.

This Survey is the most ambitious and thorough work of its kind ever produced for any large mission field. The map work alone required the time of two foreigners, one an expert cartographer, assisted by a large staff of Chinese draughtsmen. Some of the maps are the first of their kind ever to be published, as, for example, those Mission Fields and the Density of Population. The volume is a repository of information for those interested in what Christianity is doing in China, especially to those in homelands who desire the latest information and who want to set forth the facts of Christian missions, not for a small district but for the entire country. Business people will be interested in population estimates, in the location of hospitals and middle schools as well as in a number of minor facts which are scattered throughout the book. Incidentally the composition of a book like this in China by Chinese workmen is no small compliment to the country and the press concerned. A large number of well-known authorities have contributed either in special articles or by assuming responsibility of studies of special types of work.

For the first time in China, therefore, we behold a great National Christian Conference which Chinese Christians are to attend in equal numbers with the foreign missionary. At last the Church in China has come to maturity and we may look for a larger degree of initiative and independence on the part of Chinese Christians from now on. For the first time too a Christian Conference is meeting to consider its work in the light of facts which have been carefully gathered. There is to be no theorising. The Chinese delegates and the missionaries are to be faced with the presentation of conditions today which are as concrete and as true as a comprehensive, scientific survey can make it. Now that Christian leaders, Chinese and foreign, have come to look at their job in a statesmanlike, businesslike fashion, we may hope for much more co-operation, less waste and greater efficiency. To this end the Survey represents an invaluable contribution. It will tend to make the deliberations of the Conference practical throughout and whatever statements are made will naturally need to square with the facts. The Survey volume, therefore, is the text-book of the Conference. A limited edition of 1,200 copies has been printed, 900 of these having already been sold.

WE ARE WITH THE POLICE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: A few days ago I saw a policeman and two boys debating on a side-walk. After the policeman went away, I asked the two boys what was the matter, and they answered that the policeman did not allow them to sit on the side-walk. Now may I ask whether the two boys can take seats on the side-walk or not?

Sincerely Yours,
CARLLINGTON.

Gandhi Endorsed Court's Condemnation

(The following account of the sentencing of Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian leader, together with Gandhi's statement, appeared in the Bombay Chronicle of March 19).

Ahmedabad, March 18.—The trial opened at 12 noon today before Mr. C. Broomfield, District and Sessions Judge, Ahmedabad, of Mr. Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi and Mr. Shankerlal Ghelabai Banker, Editor and Publisher, respectively, of Young India, who were arrested on the 10th instant by Mr. Healy, Superintendent of Police, Ahmedabad, under orders of the Government of Bombay, in connection with four articles published in the paper on different dates, between June 1921 and February 1922. The accused were then produced before Mr. L. N. Brown, Assistant Magistrate, on the 11th instant, when after evidence of formal witnesses had been recorded Mr. Gandhi, who declared himself to be aged 53, and farmer and weaver by profession, residing at "Satyagrana Ashram," Sabarmati, admitted having written the articles in question, and declared that when proper time came he would plead guilty so far as disaffection towards the Government was concerned.

Mr. Banker also said that he would plead guilty at proper time.

The Magistrate then framed charges on three counts, under section 124 A, Indian Penal Code, and committed the accused to the sessions.

Long before the hour appointed for commencement of the trial, the hall was full with members of the public, mostly clad in Khaddar. Accommodation had also been arranged in both verandahs in front of the hall. Among those present inside the hall were Mr. V. J. Patel, Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, Mrs. Saraladevi Choudhrani, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Mr. T. Prakasham, Mr. Ambalal Sarabhani, Bai Anasuya Ben and many others.

The police and military precautions were complete. While the policemen were witnessed at frequent intervals all round the compound of the Court, an Indian Infantry was stationed inside the compound, with about half a dozen European Police Officers who were also in attendance.

MAHATMA GANDHI'S ARRIVAL

Mr. Gandhi and Mr. Banker arrived at the Court at 11-40 a.m., accompanied by Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, who had obviously postponed leaving Ahmedabad last night. All those inside the Court, stood up when Mr. Gandhi entered the hall, and remained standing until he was shown a seat to the left of the Judge. A little further up in the same row, to the right of Mr. Gandhi, sat Mr. Banker, with Pandit Malaviya on the right, while to the left of Mr. Gandhi sat his wife with Mrs. Naidu and Mrs. Saraladevi next to her.

At 11-50, Sir Thomas Strangman entered the Court and exchanged nods with Mr. Gandhi, Mr. E. C. Wild, Legal Rememberancer to the Government of Bombay, was also present in the Court.

Punctually at 12 o'clock the Judge took his seat.

MAKES ORAL STATEMENT

Before reading his written statement Mahatma Gandhi spoke a few words as introductory remarks to the whole statement. He said: "Before I read this statement I would like to state that I entirely endorse the learned Advocate General's remarks in connection with my humble self. I think that he was entirely fair to me in all the statements that he has made, because it is very true and I have no desire whatsoever to conceal from this Court the fact that to preach disaffection towards the existing system of Government has become almost a passion with me. And the learned Advocate General is also entirely in the right when he says that my preaching of disaffection did not commence with my connection with Young India but that it commenced much earlier and in the statement that I am about to read it will be my painful duty to admit before this Court that it commenced much earlier than the period stated by the Advocate General. It is the most painful duty with me but I have to discharge that duty knowing the responsibility that rested upon my shoulders.

"And I wish to endorse all the blame that the Advocate General has thrown on my shoulders in connection with the Bombay occurrence, Madras occurrences and the Chouri Choura occurrences thinking over these things deeply, and sleeping over them night after night and examining my heart I have come to the conclusion that it is impossible for me to dissociate myself from the diabolical crimes of Chouri Choura or the mad outrages of Bombay. He is quite right when he says that as a man of responsibility, a man having received a fair share of education, having had a fair share of experience of this world I should know the consequences of every one of my acts. I knew them. I knew that I was playing with fire. I ran the risk and if I was set free I would still do the same. I would be failing in my duty if I do not do so. I have felt it this morning that I would have failed in my duty if I did not say all what I said here just now. I wanted to avoid violence, I want to avoid violence. Non-violence is the first article of my faith. It is the last article of my faith. But I had to make any choice. I had either to submit to a system which I considered has done an irreparable harm to my country or incur the risk of the mad fury of my people bursting forth when they understood the truth from my lips. I know that my people have sometimes gone mad. I am deeply sorry for it; and I am, therefore, here to submit not to a light penalty but to the highest penalty. I do not ask for mercy. I do not plead any extenuating act. I am here, therefore, to invite and submit to the highest penalty that can be inflicted upon me for what in law is a deliberate crime and what appears to me to be the highest duty of a citizen. The only course open to you, Mr. Judge, is, as I am just going to say in my statement, either to resign your post or inflict on me the severest penalty. If you believe that the system and law you are assisting to administer are good for the people I do not expect that kind of conversion. But by the time I have finished with my statement you will, perhaps, have a glimpse of what is raging within my breast to run this maddest risk which a sane man can run."

Mr. Shankarlal Banker made the following statement:

"I only want to say that I had the privilege of printing these articles and I plead guilty to the charge. I have got nothing to say as regards the sentence."

MAHATMA'S STATEMENT

The following is Mahatma Gandhi's statement before the Court of Sessions:

"I owe it perhaps to the Indian public and to the public in England, to placate which this prosecution is mainly taken up, that I should explain, why from a staunch loyalist and co-operator I have become an uncompromising disaffectionist and non-co-operator. To the Court too I should say why I plead guilty to the charge of promoting disaffection towards the Government established by law in India.

"My public life began in 1893 in South Africa in troubled weather. My first contact with the British authorities in that country was not of a happy character. I discovered that as a man and an Indian, I had no rights. On the contrary, I discovered that I had no rights as a man, because I was an Indian.

"But I was not baffled. I thought that this treatment of Indians was an excrescence upon a system that was intrinsically and mainly good. I gave the Government my voluntary and hearty co-operation, criticising it fully where I felt it was faulty, but never wishing its destruction. Consequently, when the existence of the Empire was threatened in 1899, by the Boer challenge, I offered by services to it, raised a Volunteer Ambulance Corps and served at several actions that took place for the relief of Ladysmith. Similiarly in 1906, at the time of the Zulu Revolt, I raised a Stretcher Bearer Party and served till the end of the rebellion. On both these occasions I received medals and was even mentioned in despatches. For my work in South Africa I was given by Lord Harding a Kaiser-i-Hind gold medal.

"When the war broke out in 1914 between England and Germany, I raised a Volunteer Ambulance Corps in London, consisting of the then resident Indians in London, chiefly students. Its work was acknowledged by the authorities to be valuable. Lastly, in India when a special appeal was made at the War Conference in Delhi in 1917 by Lord Chelmsford for recruits, I struggled at cost of my health to raise a corps in Kheda and the response was being made when the hostilities ceased. Orders were received that no more recruits were wanted. In all these efforts at service, I was actuated by the belief that it was possible by such services to gain a status of full equality in the Empire for my countrymen.

FIRST SHOCK

"The first shock came in the shape of the Rowlatt Act, a law designed to rob the people of all real freedom. I felt called upon to lead an intensive agitation against it. Then followed the Punjab horrors, beginning with the massacre at Jallanwala Bag, and culminating in crawling orders, public flogging and other indescribable humiliations. I discovered too that the plighted word of the Prime Minister to the Mussalmans of India, regarding the integrity of Turkey and the Holy Places of Islam, was not likely to be fulfilled. But in spite of the foreboding and the grave warnings of friends at the Amritsar Congress in 1919, I fought for co-operation and working the Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms, hoping that the Prime Minister would redeem his promise to the Indian Mussulmans, that the Punjab wound would be healed and that the Reforms, inadequate and unsatisfactory though they were, marked a new era of hope in the life of India.

SHATTERED HOPES

"But all that hope was shattered. The Khalifat promise was not to be redeemed. The Punjab crime was whitewashed and most of the culprits went not only unpunished, but remained in service and some continued to draw pensions from the Indian revenue, and in some cases were even rewarded. I saw, too, that not only did the Reforms not mark a change of heart, but they were only a method of further draining India of her wealth and of prolonging her servitude. I came reluctantly to the conclusion that the British connection had made India more helpless than she ever was before politically and economically. A disarmed India has no power of resistance against any aggressor if she wanted to engage in an armed conflict with him. So much is this the case that some of our best men consider that India must take generations before she can achieve the Dominion Status. She has become so poor that she has little power of resisting famines. Before the British advent India spun and wove in her millions of cottages, just the supplement she needed for adding to her meagre agricultural resources. This cottage industry, so vital for India's existence, has been ruined by incredibly heartless and inhuman processes, as described by English witnesses. Little do the town-dwellers know how the semi-starved masses of India are slowly sinking to lifelessness. Little do they know that their miserable comfort represents the brokerage they get for the work they do for the foreign exploiter, that the profits and the brokerage are sucked from the masses. Little do they realise that the Government established by Law in British India, is carried on for this exploitation of the masses. No Sophistry, no jugglery in figures can explain away the evidence the skeletons in many villages present to the naked eye. I have no doubt whatsoever that both England and the town-dwellers of India will have to answer if there is a God above for this crime against humanity, which is perhaps unequalled in history. The law itself in this country has been used to serve the foreign exploiter. My unbiased examination of the Punjab Martial Law cases has led me to believe that at least ninety-five percent of convictions were wholly bad. My experience of political cases in India leads me to the conclusion that in nine out of every ten the condemned men were totally innocent. Their crime consisted in love of their country. In ninety-nine cases out of hundred justice has been denied to Indians as against Europeans in the Courts of India. This is not an exaggerated picture. It is the experience of almost every Indian who has had anything to do with such cases. In my opinion the administration of the law is thus prostituted consciously or unconsciously for the benefit of the exploiter.

"The greatest misfortune is that Englishmen and their Indian associates in the administration of the country do not know that they are engaged in the crime I have attempted to describe. I am satisfied that many English and Indian officials honestly believe that they are administering one of the best systems devised in the world and that India is making steady though slow progress. They do not know that a subtle but effective system of terrorism and an organised display of force on the one hand and the deprivation of all powers of retaliation or self-defense on the other have emasculated the people and induced in them the habit of simulation. This awful habit has added to the ignorance and the self deception of the administrators.

DISAFFECTION

"Section 124 A under which I am happily charged is perhaps the prince among the political sections of the Indian Penal Code designed to suppress the liberty of the citizen. Affection cannot be manufactured or regulated by law. If one has no affection for a person or thing one should be free to give the fullest expression to his disaffection so long as he does not contemplate, promote or incite to, violence. But the section under which Mr. Banker and I are charged is one under which mere promotion of disaffection is a crime. I have studied some of the cases tried under it and I know that some of the most loved of India's patriots have been convicted under it. I consider it a privilege, therefore, to be charged under it. I have endeavored to give in their briefest outline the reasons for my disaffection. I have no personal ill-will against any single administrator, much less can I have any disaffection towards the King's person. But I hold it to be a virtue to be disaffected towards a Government which in its totality has done more harm to India than any previous system. India is less manly under the British Rule than she ever was before. Holding such a belief I consider it to be a sin to have affection for the system and it has been a precious privilege for me to be able to write what I have in the various articles tendered in evidence against me. In fact I believe that I have rendered a service to India and England by showing in non-co-operation the way out of the unnatural state in which both are living. In my humble opinion non-co-operation with evil is as much a duty as is co-operation with good. But in the past non-co-operation has been deliberately expressed in violence to the evil-doer. I am endeavoring to show to my countrymen that violent non-co-operation only multiplies evil and that as evil can only be sustained by violence withdrawal of support of evil requires complete abstention from violence. Non-violence implies voluntary submission to the penalty for non-co-operation with evil.

"I adhere, therefore, to, invite and submit cheerfully to the highest penalty that can be inflicted upon me for what in law is a deliberate crime and what appears to me to be the highest duty of a citizen. The only course open to you, the Judge and the assessors, is either to resign your posts and thus dissociate yourselves from evil if you feel that the law you are called upon to administer is an evil and that in reality I am innocent or to inflict on me the severest penalty if you believe that the system and the law you are assisting to administer are good for the people of this country and that my activity is therefore injurious to the public weal.—Mr. M. K. Gandhi."

The sentence was six years' simple imprisonment to Mahatma Gandhi, and to Mr. Banker one year and Rs. 1,000 fine or in default six months more.

TEXT OF JUDGMENT

The following is the full text of the Judgment:

"Mr. Gandhi, you have made my task easy in one way by pleading guilty to the charge. Nevertheless, what remains, namely, the determination of a just sentence is perhaps as difficult a proposition as a Judge in this country could have to face. The law is no respector of persons. Nevertheless, it will be impossible to ignore the fact that you are in a different category from any persons I have ever tried or am likely to have to try. It would be impossible to ignore the fact that in the eyes of millions of your countrymen you are a great patriot and a great leader. Even those who differ from you in politics look upon you as a man of high ideals and of noble and of even saintly life. I have to deal with you in one character only. It is not my duty and I do not presume to judge or criticise you in any other character. It is my duty to judge as a man subject to the law who has his own admission broken the law and committed what to an ordinary man must appear to be, grave offences against the State. I do not forget that you have consistently preached against violence and that you have on many occasions, as I am willing to believe, done much to prevent violence. But having regard to the nature of political teaching and the nature of many of those to whom it was addressed how you could have continued to believe that violence would not be the inevitable consequence. It passes my capacity

Preventative Medicine.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

Shanghai-Malay Rubber Estates

The twelfth annual general meeting of the Shanghai-Malay Rubber Estates, Limited, was held yesterday morning at the offices of the secretaries, Beck and Swann, 3G Peking Road.

The chairman, Mr. G. Grayrigge, delivered the following address:

"Gentlemen, it is two years since I last had the privilege of addressing an annual meeting of this Company, during which period the rubber industry has encountered nothing but a slide in prices till at last we surely are near rockbottom with more chance of an upward rebound than a further drop.

"Therefore, despite these difficult times, it is with some pleasure that I study the Company's accounts for 1921 and present to you what this Board considers under the circumstances a satisfactory review of the year's working. To my mind it is very praiseworthy the way our estate managers and agents have remodelled expenditure to meet the new conditions thrust upon the industry by the slump.

"Nowhere have I seen this more strikingly exemplified than in the accounts now in your hands, for whereas our cost of production in 1920 for the two estates was approximately 12.90 pence, the average for year reviewed is only 6.70 pence.

"Gentlemen, I am convinced this result has not been easily achieved and that we owe a vote of appreciation to the estate managers, Straits agents and our secretaries for the excellent way they have responded to the crying need of the times, that is, economy. It is furthermore pleasing to tell you that the estates, generally speaking, are in good order. Chengai seems to have been particularly well administered, but on Goodheart recently signs are reported that the policy of retrenchment has been carried somewhat to excess as regards weeding, whilst bark consumption appears too liberal. Both these points are now being taken full care of.

PLANTED AREA REDUCED

"The planted area of the estates was reduced by 14 acres of inferior rubber abandoned in February 1921 on the visiting agents' recommendation, otherwise there was no change, and the Company now has 1,309 acres planted, of which 988 are producing. We still have approximately 147 acres of plantable land but no further extensions are contemplated.

"Centrosema was planted in the immature areas of both divisions and is acting as a soil conserver apart from its other beneficial properties. Labor was ample but prospects are not so good for the ensuing year. The health of Europeans and natives was reported satisfactory, and no serious epidemic of tree pests or tree disease was met with.

"The financial position of the Company necessitated full tapping throughout the year, much to the Directors' regret, for they are all advocates of restriction in these days of low prices. Overhead charges have to be met and we are not in a position to increase our overdraft at our bankers to finance the estates through a period of stoppage or restriction. Under full production the estates just managed to be self supporting with a very narrow margin to the good. I am, however, pleased to tell you that the system of alternate day tapping is being gradually put into effect, which we hope may result in conservation of bark and be of benefit to the trees at the same time.

EXPENSES AT MINIMUM

"Turning to the accounts, you will see that expenses have been kept down to a minimum. Except for some Taels 7,236 spent on upkeep of non-producing area, nothing further in the way of capital expenditure was incurred. Fair depreciation has been allowed for on all estate equipment.

"The Company's overdraft at our Bankers is Taels 43,111.37 but if you take into calculation the fact that our liquid assets after allowing for sundry creditors total Taels 13,826.92, the adverse position is reduced to Taels 29,284.45 not too enviable a state these difficult days, especially also as the Company has to face a contingent liability of Taels 24,000 for dividends deferred on the cumulative and participating preference shares.

"We have, however, 10,000 of these shares still unissued which the Board intends to issue at the first favorable opportunity and I hope all shareholders will then safeguard their interests by subscribing their quota.

"The result of the year's working shows a profit of Taels 1,403.34 which added to the sum of Taels 8,508.24 brought forward from last year, makes a total of Taels 9,911.58 to be dealt with. Subject to whatever sums may be due for estates' managers commissions, the directors recommend this sum be carried forward to the new account.

"I think, Gentlemen, I have dealt with all matters of interest, but if any of you wish to ask any questions, I shall be pleased to answer same."

The report and accounts were passed on the proposal of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. R. N. Truman.

Mr. R. N. Truman was re-elected a Director of the Company.

Mr. A. J. Welch proposed and Mr. W. S. Ziar seconded and it was carried unanimously that Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be relected auditors of the Company.

There were represented at the meeting 19,658 shares.

Gandhi Endorsed Court's Condemnation

to understand. There are probably few people in India who do not sincerely regret that you should have made it impossible for any Government to leave you at liberty. But it is so. I am trying balance what is due to you against what appears to me to be necessary in the interest of the public, and I propose in passing sentence to follow the precedent of a case in many respects similar to this case that was decided some twelve years ago. I mean the case against Mr. Bal Gangadhar Tilak under the same section. The sentence that was passed upon him as it finally stood was a sentence of simple imprisonment for six years. You will not consider it unreasonable I think that you should be classed with Mr. Tilak. That is a sentence of two years simple imprisonment on each count of the charge, six years in all which I feel it my duty to pass upon you; and I should like to say in doing so that if the course of events in India should make it possible for the Government to reduce the period and release you no one will be better pleased than I."

The Judge, then, addressing to Mr. Banker said:

"I assume you have been to a large extent under the influence of your chief. The sentence that I propose to pass upon you is simple imprisonment for six months each of the first two counts, that is to say simple imprisonment for one year, and a fine of thousand rupees on the third count with six months' simple imprisonment in default."

HIS PROUDEST PRIVILEGE

Mahatma Gandhi said: "I would say one word since you have done me the honor of recalling the trial of the late Lokmanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak. I just want to say that I consider it to be the proudest privilege and honor to be associated with his name. So far as the sentence itself is concerned I certainly consider that it is as light as any judge would inflict on me and so far as the whole proceedings are concerned I must say that I could not have expected greater courtesy."

Then the friends of Mahatmaji crowded round him as the judge left the court and fell at his feet. There was much sobbing on the part of both men and women; but all the while Mahatma Gandhi was smiling and cool and giving encouragement to every body who came to him. Mr. Banker also was smiling and taking things in a light hearted way.

After all his friends had taken leave of him Mahatma Gandhi was taken out of the court to the Sabarmati Jail and thus the great trial ended.

Clubwomen Hear Of Aid Given Homes By Government

The Music Department of the American Woman's Club closed a most successful season by presenting a delightful musical entertainment at the regular meeting of the club held last Tuesday afternoon. The well balanced program was made up entirely from the works of American composers and included glees sung by the girls and boys of the American School, and vocal, piano and violin solos. The next general meeting of the Club will be held May 2 at the Carlton Cafe at 4 o'clock with the visiting ladies of the National Christian Conference as guests. This is "Library Day" and Mrs. Florence Ayscough will give a paper.

On Wednesday morning at the Carlton Cafe the Mothers' Department and their friends heard all about the assistance which Uncle Sam is willing to extend to homemakers and mothers through government bureaus devoted to the interests of women. Mrs. B. C. Hubbard introduced the subject and Miss Viola Smith, secretary of the American Commercial Attache, and the first woman to be appointed in the foreign service of the Department of Commerce, gave the history and functions of the various bureaus and their publications of special interest to women, distributing lists of the monographs particularly valuable. A number of the pamphlets described were distributed at the meeting.

Miss Smith stated that the Children's Bureau was a division of the Department of Labor, its province being to investigate and report upon all matters pertaining to the welfare of children and child life, investigating such matters as infant mortality, birth rate, orphanages, juvenile courts, desertions, dangerous occupations, accidents, diseases of children, employment of children, and legislation for them. Miss Julia Lathrop, the first Chief of this Bureau, and a social worker of distinction, was at one time associated with Jane Addams of Hull House. Miss Grace Abbott is the present chief.

"Miss Hilda Muhlhauser," said Miss Smith, "established the first Woman's and Girl's Bureau in Cleveland. She was later commandeered by the Department of Labor as an employment expert and succeeded in having a Women's Division included in the U. S. Employment Service when it was created, and was chief of that division for six or eight months.

TELLS OF FOUNDING

"The Women in Industry Service was headed by Mary Van Kleek of the Russell Sage Foundation, and the Present Women's Bureau is under the direction of Mary Anderson, the well known trade union leader of the Boot and Shoe Industry in America. This bureau seeks to formulate standards to promote the welfare of wage-earning women, to improve their working conditions, increase their efficiency, and advance their opportunity for profitable employment.

"The Bureau of Education, a division of the Department of the Interior, issues a number of publications on educational subjects, home economics, and other topics, while the Bureau of Farm Management and Farm Economics, under the Department of Agriculture, studies the farmer's economic problems with a view to reducing costs, and creating better organisation. The Public Health Service of the Department of the Interior makes intensive studies of man's diseases and issues publications thereon."

The next meeting of the Department will be held on May 3 at ten a.m. at the Carlton Cafe when Mrs. L. J. Birney will speak on "Practical Religious Training for Children."

Officers for the coming season were elected as follows: chairman, Mrs. Egbert Hayes; vice-Chairman, Mrs. George T. Challoner; recording secretary, Mrs. W. W. Peter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. H. Gray.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

On Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Wilbur the program committee of the Literary Department met to discuss plans for the next season's work and decided to divide the program into sections, making various members responsible for different lines of work. Mrs. Van Buskirk and Miss Lucille Douglass were co-opted as additional members of the committee. The next meeting of the Department will be held on Friday, April 28, at 5 p.m. at the rooms of the Royal Asiatic Society and Mrs. Couling will speak on "Chaung Tzu—the Beloved Heretic." All interested in the subject are cordially invited to attend.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, harmless effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARRISH, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a safe and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
